

Mid East Peace Pact Said 90 Per Cent Set

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger says only "nuances" remain to be resolved in a new Israeli-Egyptian agreement providing for another Israeli pullback in the Sinai Desert.

Israeli officials in Jerusalem said today a key part of the pact already is complete and ready for signing. They said the completed section obliged both sides to refrain from "the use or threat of force" and was to be signed directly between Israel and Egypt.

Kissinger reported "remarkable progress" in the negotiations after his arrival from Israel late Tuesday afternoon to confer with President Anwar Sadat.

The Israeli officials said the completed portion — one of three sections in the pact — also specified permission for Israeli cargo to move through the Suez Canal and included an appendix of maps and timetables for territorial changes. They declined to say when it might be signed, but all indications were that it would be wrapped up before the end of the week.

Sadat said after greeting Kissinger that the agreement "is not only good for Egypt and for the Arab world, but it is for the sake of peace ... for the Arabs and the Israelis.

"If this succeeds it will mean defusing of the situation," the Egyptian president declared.

Sadat repeatedly stressed the importance of peace. In reply to a newsman who noted that Egypt was also regaining territory, he said: "Territory? We shall be regaining our territory. But what we are after is peace."

However, a cautionary note came from Tahsen Bashir, a spokesman for Sadat, who said 10 per cent of the agreement was still to be worked out, and this should not be "lightly dismissed."

Diplomatic sources said the major problem still unresolved was the wording of the clauses covering Egyptian guarantees to limit economic and propaganda warfare against Israel, and the possible linking of the agreement to a similar agreement between Israel and Syria.

The sources added, however, that the pact would be of unlimited duration and would not depend on future Israeli concessions to Syria or Jordan.

Kissinger said that despite opposition from Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, he believed the Ford Administration could get the approval of Congress to the stationing of about 200 American technicians at electronic surveillance posts in territory to be relinquished by Israel.

"We will consult very carefully with the Congress and our impression is that we can get it through after some serious debate," he said.

Under the agreement, Israel will pull back to the eastern foothills of the strategic Mitla and Gidi passes and will return the Abu Rudeis oilfields.

The passes will be in the new United Nations buffer zone, but Israel and the United States will man a surveillance post on the Egyptian side of the Gidi pass; Israel and Egypt will staff one on the Israeli side, and American personnel will operate four other electronic observation centers to give advance warning of any attack.

Egypt and Israel will pledge not to resort to "the use or threat of force" for a period of more than three years, and Egypt will curb economic, political and propaganda warfare against Israel.

Egypt will allow Israeli cargoes to pass through the Suez Canal, and the United States will guarantee economic and military aid for Israel.

Haile Selassie Dead At 83

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Haile Selassie, the diminutive strong man who ruled Ethiopia as the "King of Kings" for 48 years before he was deposed by the military last September, died today. He was 83.

The government said the former monarch was found dead in his bed by a servant early this morning.

In Washington, intelligence sources said an Addis Ababa radio broadcast reported that Selassie died as a result of illness affecting his prostate gland. Last May, Selassie was reported seriously ill with a prostate condition. The sources said the broadcast gave no further details.

The State Department had no immediate comment.

Since he was deposed last Sept. 12 Selassie had been confined in one of his former palaces in the Ethiopian capital, and access to him had been denied to outsiders.

Medical reports following his operation said he was making a normal recovery. But then there was no further word on his condition.

Today's broadcast said that following a deterioration Tuesday, Selassie's only surviving daughter, Princess Tenagnework, had been permitted to visit him.

But there was apparently no fear his death was imminent, and the former absolute monarch of 27 million people died alone.

Taking the throne in 1928 when he was 36, he ruled for 41 of the next 46 years.

Mussolini's invading army drove him into exile in 1936. The British army brought him back to his throne in 1941 and he kept it until a slow-motion military coup culminated in his arrest last Sept. 12.

The bearded little old man was held in an apartment at the Grand Palace, his former stronghold on a hilltop overlooking Addis Ababa and now the headquarters of the military regime that overthrew him.

Last February he was reported in good health but subject to periods of mental confusion when he seemed to believe he was still on the throne.

In March, the leftist military government abolished the 3,000-year-old monarchy.

On May 23 the official Ethiopian radio announced that Haile Selassie was seriously ill and might need prostate surgery. That was the last word of him until the announcement today of his death.

Known as the Conquering Lion of Judah, Elect of God and King of Kings, the emperor began his long reign as a reformer. He built schools, roads and hospitals in a land where public hangings and slavery had been common and where landlords kept private armies.

But age and tradition prevented the emperor from keeping pace with Ethiopia's intellectuals and technocrats. The country, whose proudest boast was that it never had been colonized, stayed behind when newly independent Africa began modernizing itself in the 1960s.

Ironically, Selassie himself ordered the changes that eventually led to his downfall — the military training programs that exposed Ethiopian officers to democracy in the United States, and Haile Selassie University, where students learned to think in revolutionary terms.

Drought had taken more than 100,000 lives in Ethiopia by February 1974, when the armed forces mutinied for pay raises and then began nibbling away at the emperor's power and public support.

Though slightly built and barely 5 feet 2, the descendant of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba, was an iron man who always used stern methods to suppress his enemies. Lij Yasu, the emperor from whom he seized the throne in 1928, was kept in chains for 19 years until he died.

Selassie was born Prince Tafari Makonnen on July 23, 1892, a member of the Ethiopian royal family but not in the direct line of succession to the throne. With the support of tribal barons he had himself proclaimed king in 1928 when there was friction between opposing factions of the royal family.

Comprehensive State Energy Bill In Effect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio has a new energy agency with broad authority to launch the state on a course toward development of alternate fuel and conservation of existing resources.

Gov. James A. Rhodes signed legislation creating the agency Tuesday, but he line-item vetoed a section he said would have permitted it "to disregard the actions of any other state agency or local political subdivision."

The energy bill was the product of a last minute compromise between majority Democrats in the legislature and Rhodes who vetoed an earlier Democratic energy plan.

In addition to establishing an Energy Resource and Development Agency (ERDA), it provides a 30-year tax abatement as an incentive to attract a coveted $142.3 million federal coal gasification plant to Ohio.

The new state department can build power plants and coal conversion facilities, issue revenue bonds to finance energy development and aid industry in converting from gas to coal.

The section of the bill objectionable to Rhodes stated that "no public agency or political subdivision of this state may require any approval, consent, permit, certificate or other condition for the construction or initial operation of an Energy Resource and Development Facility." It allowed that the language is "notwithstanding any other provision" of state law.

Rhodes said, however, that it would have the effect of exempting ERDA from environmental regulations and local zoning ordinances.

"Although the energy crisis we are facing demands full and imaginative solutions by state government," Rhodes said, "I do not believe it is necessary to completely disregard and render null and void the important functions of local zoning ordinances and other permit responsibilities of public agencies."

The compromise with Democrats gave the governor authority to appoint all five of ERDA's voting members and he is expected to do so within 10 days. The legislature will appoint four ex-officio members to the agency's board of trustees.

The agency is expected to begin functioning promptly, but Rhodes aides say it will not be able to move quickly enough to stave off power shortages this winter.

The tax break for the Coalcon demonstration plant is an effort to give Ohio a competitive edge over five other midwestern and border states under consideration for the facility. Rhodes has been pushing for months to bring the plant to Ohio.

Rhodes also signed a bill creating an Ohio Land Use Review Committee to study land development, zoning and environmental and agricultural regulations.

The committee, which may be established immediately under the bill, is to submit a report and recommendations to the General Assembly by next June 30. It will consist of a gubernatorial appointee, seven senators and seven state representatives.

Also signed by the governor and effective immediately were bills to:

—Bring Ohio in compliance and allow participation in the 1974 federal National Health Planning and Resources Development Act, which replaced and updated a number of federal health plans that expired last year.

—Broaden legal requirements for individuals to report violent or unusual deaths to public officials and prohibit disturbance of such bodies.

Rhodes signed legislation effective Nov. 25:

—Prohibiting the assignment of a mortgage to be listed by the county recorder unless it contains the mailing address of the person to whom the note and mortgage have been sold or transferred.

—Requiring the health department to record marriage dissolutions in the same manner as divorces.

—Permitting state child care subsidies in some instances for relatives who remain home to look after a child.

—Requiring the state to pay a proportional cost of special elections it conducts simultaneous with local elections.

—Requiring the state to provide free office space in the Ohio Departments Building in Columbus for all recognized Ohio veterans organizations.

Boy's Heart Outside Body; Less Than 200 Cases Known

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Christopher and Teresa Wall should be depressed. Their newborn baby is not well, neither one has a job and their medical bills are high.

But they are happy because their son is alive despite the fact he was born with his heart outside his body, a defect doctors believe no other infant has ever survived.

"We're just going day by day," Mrs. Wall, 20, told reporters at Children's Hospital here Tuesday. "We're thanking God every day he's still alive."

"He's looking more like a little boy now, without all his tubes and everything."

Christopher John Wall Jr., the first child of the Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., couple, lies on his back on an "infant warmer" in the hospital's intensive care unit, his condition critical but stable.

When he was born Aug. 10 at Garden State Community Hospital in nearby Marlton, N.J., doctors found that he had no sternum, the elastic cartilage that connects the front of the ribs.

The bulk of his heart protruded through his chest, with only the upper end remaining within the chest cavity. The condition is called ectopia cordis,

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices declined slightly again in the stock market today amid continuing edginess over inflation and rising interest rates.

Trading was slow. The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off .86 at 802.25, and losers outnumbered gainers by about a 5-3 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow dipped briefly below 800 early in the session. But at that point some bargain hunters moved in with the encouragement of the government's report that its index of leading economic indicators posted its fifth straight rise last month.

The index is designed to give advance signs of developing economic trends.

Commerce Secretary Rogers Morton, however, warned that the strong uptrend in the index might not continue.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks slipped .12 to 44.59 in the first hour.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .29 at 83.70.

Pickaway Authorities to rural Washington County to a farmer who had purchased the tractor from Shelton. The tractor was returned to Circleville where Hildenbrand properly identified the huge machinery as belonging to him.

Radcliff noted that various serial numbers were removed from the farm tractor, but Hildenbrand was able to definitely identify the tractor as his when he showed authorities two pennies and a dime he placed in the aerial to make a radio operate more efficiently.

The investigation is continuing with other arrests forthcoming.

U.S. Reaffirms Korean Stance

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger has "unequivocally reaffirmed" the U.S. commitment to defend South Korea from external aggression, a joint Korean-American statement said today.

Schlesinger specifically assured South Korea of American readiness and determination "to render prompt and effective assistance" under the U.S.-Korea mutual defense treaty of 1954 in the event of an armed attack, the statement said.

In the statement, issued at the end of the annual two-day U.S.-South Korea security meeting, the defense secretary also reaffirmed that the Ford administration has no plans to reduce the 42,000-man American force in the country.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices declined slightly again in the stock market today amid continuing edginess over inflation and rising interest rates.

Trading was slow.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off .86 at 802.25, and losers outnumbered gainers by about a 5-3 margin on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow dipped briefly below 800 early in the session. But at that point some bargain hunters moved in with the encouragement of the government's report that its index of leading economic indicators posted its fifth straight rise last month.

The index is designed to give advance signs of developing economic trends.

Commerce Secretary Rogers Morton, however, warned that the strong uptrend in the index might not continue.

The NYSE's composite index of all its listed common stocks slipped .12 to 44.59 in the first hour.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .29 at 83.70.

Grand Jury To Eye Hoffa Case

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury will hear from 70 witnesses beginning next Tuesday as prosecutors step up efforts to learn the fate of former Teamsters union president Jimmy Hoffa.

Among the early witnesses will be Hoffa's foster son, Charles L. "Chuckie" O'Brien, a union organizer whom sources describe as a key figure in the probe of Hoffa's mysterious disappearance July 30.

U.S. Atty. Ralph Guy said Tuesday his office has no information about Hoffa not already gathered by the FBI during a three-week nationwide hunt for the 62-year-old ex-union boss.

"The grand jury is not receiving evidence for indictments," Guy said. "It is wearing its investigative hat. We hope evidence generated by this jury together with what investigators have will provide additional leads."

Hoffa vanished without a trace after leaving his home, reportedly for a scheduled meeting at a fashionable suburban restaurant with Detroit Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone.

Robert Ozer, who heads the U.S. Attorney's Organized Crime Strike Force here, revealed at a court hearing Tuesday that the government plans to call 70 witnesses before the jury.

Ozer would not disclose the names of others the government would call, but he said no members of Hoffa's immediate family had been subpoenaed.

However, sources close to the investigation say Giacalone is among those subpoenaed. Giacalone has denied he arranged to meet Hoffa on the day Hoffa vanished.

It is believed subpoenas also have been issued to other Hoffa friends and business associates, several underworld figures and persons who saw him just before he disappeared.

Ozer appeared before U.S. District Judge Fred Kaess to respond to a request by O'Brien's attorney for a two-day delay in a scheduled Sept. 2 jury appearance because O'Brien is moving his family from Arkansas to Florida. Kaess ordered a one-day delay.

During the hearing, Ozer said O'Brien, who was questioned for more than eight hours by FBI agents over the past two weeks, "has raised many more questions than he has answered."

O'Brien reportedly told the FBI that he was driving in the area where Hoffa disappeared at about the time Hoffa was last seen. O'Brien reportedly said it was a coincidence.

He has declined to take a polygraph test to support his account.

One source said investigators are operating on the theory that Hoffa was ordered kidnapped and killed by individuals high in the Mafia because his attempt to regain union power threatened their interests.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University begins a second remodeling program to remove architectural barriers for the physically handicapped this fall.

The university launched a remodeling program three years ago.

The latest will be completed in 1978. The total funding available for the project, through an Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission grant and a contribution from the university, is $921,233.

Barriers to remove include curb ramps for easier wheelchair travel around campus and a ramp system inside one of the west campus pedestrian tunnels and the installation of elevators in five buildings.

By the 1978 target date, 150 major campus buildings will be essentially barrier-free to the physically impaired, university officials said.

Superconductivity Wave Of Future?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Case Western Reserve University researchers say industry may draw widespread benefits from a new area of electrical technology, superconductivity.

The term applies to the ability of some metals and alloys to conduct electricity almost without resistance when they are chilled to near absolute zero, or nearly 460 degrees below zero on the Fahrenheit scale.

The research teams coordinated by Prof. Osman Mawardi expect it to hold the key to at least one energy problem as well as a potential boost for the shipping industry.

Under recent grants and contracts totaling $170,000, the teams are to develop superconductive generators and alternators for use in the utility industry.

They also are to develop an energy storage system based on superconductivity, a system they hope will be an inexpensive and highly efficient method of storing electric power for use during periods of peak demand.

Mawardi said in a recent interview that locating a superconductive storage system near a power plant might prevent brownouts or other temporary power shortages. The technique would involve storing electricity during periods of low demand for release during periods of high demand.

Mawardi said superconductivity also is expected to make possible the construction of electric motors that are lighter and have greater power than current models, a boon to industry generally.

"Imagine, for example, what this can mean to the shipbuilding industry," he said. "Ship motors today are enormous."

He said they usually are located some distance from propellers so they don't throw the ship out of balance.

"If there were a light motor with lots of power, it could be right adjacent to the propeller, making for a much more efficient vessel," he said.

See Changes In Autos

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. executives predict the automobile industry's use of rubber and plastics will increase by more than 50 per cent within five years as an economy measure.

A spokesman said Goodyear expects a typical car will use about 450 pounds of the materials by 1980, compared with the current use of about 300 pounds.

And the increase in using plastics will help to reduce a car's total weight to about 3,200 pounds instead of the current estimated 4,200 pounds, the spokesman predicted.

He suggested the changes from metal to plastics will show up in seat frames, in molded exteriors, in ceiling and side panels, and in the basic structure of the instrument panel.

He also predicted a single "serpentine drive" will replace the several belts now used to drive the fan, water pump, air conditioner and other under-the-hood equipment.

Grand Jury To Eye Hoffa Case

DETROIT (AP) — A federal grand jury will hear from 70 witnesses beginning next Tuesday as prosecutors step up efforts to learn the fate of former Teamsters union president Jimmy Hoffa.
Among the early witnesses will be Hoffa's foster son, Charles L. "Chuckie" O'Brien, a union organizer whom sources describe as a key figure in the probe of Hoffa's mysterious disappearance July 30.
U.S. Atty. Ralph Guy said Tuesday his office has no information about Hoffa not already gathered by the FBI during a three-week nationwide hunt for the 62-year-old ex-union boss.
"The grand jury is not receiving evidence for indictments," Guy said. "It is wearing its investigative hat. We hope evidence generated by this jury together with what investigators have will provide additional leads."

Hoffa vanished without a trace after leaving his home, reportedly for a scheduled meeting at a fashionable suburban restaurant with Detroit Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone.
Robert Ozer, who heads the U.S. Attorney's Organized Crime Strike Force here, revealed at a court hearing Tuesday that the government plans to call 70 witnesses before the jury.

Ozer would not disclose the names of others the government would call, but he said no members of Hoffa's immediate family had been subpoenaed.
However, sources close to the investigation say Giacalone is among those subpoenaed. Giacalone has denied he arranged to meet Hoffa on the day Hoffa vanished.
It is believed subpoenas also have been issued to other Hoffa friends and business associates, several underworld figures and persons who saw him just before he disappeared.
Ozer appeared before U.S. District Judge Fred Kaess to respond to a request by O'Brien's attorney for a two-day delay in a scheduled Sept. 2 jury appearance because O'Brien is moving his family from Arkansas to Florida. Kaess ordered a one-day delay.
During the hearing, Ozer said O'Brien, who was questioned for more than eight hours by FBI agents over the past two weeks, "has raised many more questions than he has answered."

O'Brien reportedly told the FBI that he was driving in the area where Hoffa disappeared at about the time Hoffa was last seen. O'Brien reportedly said it was a coincidence.
He has declined to take a polygraph test to support his account.
One source said investigators are operating on the theory that Hoffa was ordered kidnapped and killed by individuals high in the Mafia because his attempt to regain union power threatened their interests.

And in electric power generating plants, a motor made of superconductors would respond more quickly to changes in power loads, he added.

They also would use less iron than generators use now and thus would cost less to build, he said.

A Page Of Opinion

Employment Intrusion

One of the Parkinsonian economic principles holds that in every bureaucracy work expands to meet the time available. In matters related to government bureaucracies, the work expansion is directly related to both time and funding.

Undoubtedly one of the reasons the United States Employment Service has expanded its interests in recent years is the fact that Congress has been adding generously to its annual budget. In the process, USES has been entering areas of personnel recruitment directly competitive with private employment agencies.

Competitive may not be the correct term, because USES is funded with tax monies and thus is guaranteed survival no matter how far afield it may go from sound economic principles of the industry.

Created during the depression of the 1930s to try to find employment for the unemployed, USES today is channeling some of its efforts into finding better jobs for the employed, including referrals for executives and other employed persons who normally might be expected to enlist the aid of private firms. With a budget which has nearly tripled in 10 years (to almost $600 million this year), USES is well on its way to carving out a lion's share of the employment business.

A Deadly Game

By JIM BISHOP

It was predicable that certain editorial writers would not permit the 30th anniversary of the bombing of Hiroshima to pass without lamentation and breast-beating.

William V. Shannon, writing for The New York Times, says that "the moral anguish" of the atom bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki "torments us still . . . There are feelings of national guilt . . ."

I do not pretend to know how a whole nation feels. However, I stopped the first 15 persons to emerge from a supermarket and asked if the atom bombings pinged their consciences. Twelve said, "No. Should it?" Three asked me if I was some kind of a nut.

To put the bomb in proper perspective, one has to go back to the Spring of 1945. Italy had collapsed. Germany was fighting with paper armies. Imperial Japan had been defeated by MacArthur in successive engagements up the island chain. The Japanese fleet had been defeated at Surigao Strait.

War Secretary Henry J. Stimson, accompanied by General George C. Marshall displayed a huge map of Japan to President Roosevelt. It was called "Operation Olympic." It depicted the final battles on the Japanese main islands. Cost: One million American casualties.

The Americans had three atom bombs — one was test-fired at Alamogordo, New Mexico. Two were reserved for optional targets in Japan — each target was a Japanese Army headquarters.

U.S. scientists, using uranium tests executed by Enrico Fermi in 1934, and mathematical formula devised by Lise Meitner, a German Jew, could, in time, split an atom, releasing enormous amounts of energy. These tests were open to other nations.

FDR put $2 billion into three bombs. He died. The mantle fell on Harry Truman. The first bomb was successfully tested while the President was at Potsdam, Germany, conferring with Josef Stalin and Winston Churchill.

Whatever doubt there was about using the remaining two bombs reposed almost exclusively in the hearts of left-wing scientists. They wanted to invite Japanese officers here to see one explode.

This, they thought, would influence Japan to surrender. It did not occur to them that Imperial Japan preferred death to surrender. They never asked themselves that solitary question: If Japan had the bomb, would they use it on American cities?

Truman, en route home on a heavy cruiser, radioed: "Drop it." The genie, once out of the bottle, never returns to confinement. The President knew that we had but two aces to persuade Japan to surrender.

In August, one fell on Hiroshima, the other on Nagasaki. In spite of the heavy toll in lives, the imperial high command had to believe that we had more such destructive forces. If not, she could easily sustain the loss of 180,000 lives.

The Emperor convinced the war lords and Japan should seek an end to hostilities. It was no longer necessary for the Americans to fight and die on the four main Japanese islands. Saved: 1 million Americans.

If you add up all the military budgets of all the nations in World War I, and divide it by the number of casualties, you will find that it cost $50,000 to kill one man. When the hydrogen bomb was discovered, the cost dropped to one million dead for $1 million.

A dollar a head. Today the Soviet Union and the U.S. plant steel asparagus in their farmlands. These missiles can fly and kill in 30 minutes. Does anyone ask to put that genie back in the bottle?

Does anyone believe that, if the birds fly, they will kill only soldiers and sailors? Or will they fuse great cities and their populations into something akin to melted glass?

The atom club grows bigger, not smaller. If, someday, some mad dictator of a small nation punches a button, will the other members of the club set their deadly birds winging through a night sky?

I feel no attack of conscience about the first use of the atom bomb. I am sorry for those who lived to carry the scars. But then I get to thinking about Adolf Hitler, who had no atom bomb.

Does it hurt your conscience that he killed 5 million Jews and 2 million Slavs? War, you see, is just a game of numbers . . .

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While the administration remains bullish on the economy not everyone agrees. Merrill Lynch is bearish.

In a report entitled "The Economic Outlook Has Changed," contained in its "Weekly Government Securities Bulletin," the nation's largest broker now foresees the economy actually declining again by early 1976.

ML is not alone in its doubts about the recovery, but it is out there all by itself in terms of its powerful influence on investors of all sizes.

Two weeks ago in its government securities bulletin the firm commented that a combination of accelerating inflation and rising interest rates could trigger responses that would risk aborting the recovery.

In its latest bulletin, dated Aug. 22 and now circulating to investors, it adds:

"These forces have now progressed far enough and for sufficient time so that we now feel that the probabilities now favor a substantially reduced rate of economic growth in the fourth quarter of this year and a shift to a small decline in the first quarter of next year."

This outlook, it observes, "is considerably different from the one we had been relying upon for some nine months or so."

Rising inflation, it said, will erode spendable income, particularly discretionary income or income that isn't required for necessities.

"Most of the price increases have been in the food area," it observes, "but wholesale and industrial prices of non-food items have also started to increase."

It said interest rates are rising "because of tighter Federal Reserve policy and concern over inflation" rather than from any sharp increase in demand, "the only major borrower being the U.S. Treasury."

These factors, the brokerage house observes, have reduced consumer confidence, business confidence and investor confidence.

"If consumers find their real discretionary income eroding and equity values declining, they are less likely to buy big ticket items for which they have to make an extended commitment," the report states.

By October or November, the report concludes, evidence of the changing economic environment should become obvious, and "it would seem reasonable to expect the Federal Reserve to alter its policy to accommodation and away from restraint at that time."

While an easier money policy most likely would result in an economic upturn, possibly accompanied by the familiar inflation, the Merrill Lynch report makes no attempt to look beyond the first quarter of 1976.

Poll Gives Ford Nod

NEW YORK (AP) — A Harris poll says that President Ford would decisively beat former Gov. Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination if the election were held now.

In a survey taken between Aug. 6 and Aug. 10, 683 Republicans and independents said they preferred Ford to the former California governor by a 55-34 per cent margin, the pollster said Monday.

Ford was favored 60 to 32 per cent among the rank and file Republicans. With the independents, his lead was 50 to 35 per cent. Ford ran well ahead of Reagan in all parts of the country except the West where he led among Republican and independent voters by one point, 47 to 46. His home area of the Midwest gave Ford his largest margin of 61 to 28 per cent, the poll said.

Although Reagan is not a declared candidate for the GOP nomination, a formal committee in his behalf has been organized.

A rainfall of .85 inches brought relief from the persistent high temperatures but arrived too late to revive scorched crops.

Three boys, James Bowsher, Emmett Cook and Finton Boltenhouse shared a $100 reward when they discovered the body of a Circleville woman in the Scioto River where she had leapt to her death in October of the previous year.

Student enrollment in Pickaway County schools, excluding Circleville, increased 155 over the previous year for a total of 4,587 pupils.

Local merchants and candidates for county offices encouraged Hugh Goldsberry of Circleville to complete his 100-hour mark as a flag pole sitter at the rate of $1 per hour.

Cement was being poured on S. Court St. prior to laying the bricks which would complete a stretch of paved road from Sandusky to Chillicothe.

Circleville's new tax rate was fixed at $19.70 in the city and $12.60 in the Circleville school district.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Why do intelligent people simply refuse to admit that 65 extra pounds is a dangerous burden to their hearts? My husband is one of those who can't be convinced.

Mrs. T.H., Ark.

Dear Mrs. H.:

A psychiatrist may entertain the complex reason of the death wish to explain such problems. Perhaps it does exist, yet I am more convinced that there are even intelligent people who refuse to recognize the extra load those 65 pounds are putting on their hearts.

It takes no particular brilliance to appreciate the fact that pounds of fat around the heart, blood vessels, liver and lungs do an injustice to the wonderful functioning of these organs.

Doctors are amazed that patients who cannot give up tobacco, excess alcohol and who cannot learn to modify emotional stress find they can do so after they have had their first heart attack.

Hard driving, unreasonable people seem to be miraculously converted into angels once they have been stricken by coronary heart disease.

They quickly learn that they are expendable in their businesses and that tobacco, alcohol and dietary excesses can be controlled.

Perhaps the psychiatrist is correct when he speaks about the death wish and that people tempt their fates, tottering on the brink of destruction before readjusting their patterns of living.

It falls within the province of the physician to bring a greater awareness to people like your husband of the need for reevaluation of his total health picture.

Is it possible to see a piece of glass in the stomach? I think I may have swallowed it.

Miss R.E., R.I.

Dear Miss E.:

Only certain types of glass can be seen by X-ray. Glass that has lead in it, or other chemicals that give it opacity, can be seen.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . The dinner table should be a good setting for relaxation. Eating periods should be free of emotional tension.

Agnew Transcripts Sought In Order To Clear Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who prosecuted the Spiro T. Agnew bribery case is pressing for public disclosure of the records of two secret meetings which led to Agnew's resignation from the vice presidency.

Former U.S. Atty. George Beall said Monday he has asked Agnew's lawyers to agree to make public the transcripts of the pivotal meetings on Oct. 8 and 9, 1973, involving U.S. District Judge Walter E. Hoffman, government prosecutors, and Agnew's lawyers.

It was during those secret sessions, the first in an Alexandria, Va., motel room and the second at the Justice Department, that the deal was struck allowing Agnew to plead no contest to a single tax evasion charge and resign from office. In exchange, the department agreed not to press for a jail sentence and to bring no other charges against Agnew in connection with a Maryland political kickback scheme.

2 Chinese Held In Death Of Ohioan

TAIPEI, Taiwan (AP) — The police announced today they have arrested two Chinese on charges of fatally stabbing U.S. Air Force Sgt. Leslie C. Oberholzer, 22, of Jackson, Ohio, last month.

Four other Chinese men and a girl who were present at the stabbing still are being sought, police said.

A U.S. military spokesman said Nationalist Chinese and American military authorities were conducting a joint investigation into the case.

The American spokesman said Oberholzer and two other Air Force men were stabbed by several persons in Taipei early on the morning of July 18. Oberholzer was transferred to the hospital at Clark Air Force Base, in The Philippines, and died there Aug. 2.

Chinese authorities said police investigations determined that Oberholzer was hit by the door of a taxi when six Chinese men, including the two arrested, and the girl who is sought arrived at a night club near a U.S. military compound.

Police said an argument and a fight ensued and one of the Chinese grabbed a knife from a nearby fruit stand and stabbed Oberholzer three times. Oberholzer's two companions also were stabbed, and the Chinese fled in two taxis, the police said.

The two other Americans recovered from their wounds and returned to duty, the American spokesman said. But he refused to reveal their identities.

Agnew resigned Oct. 10, 1973.

A court stenographer recorded the proceedings, but the notes have never been typed up or publicly released.

"It seems to me the public record in this particular proceeding should be as complete as can humanly be expected," Beall said in a telephone interview. "The public should have the opportunity to judge for themselves what took place."

He said he hopes that public disclosure would put to rest any lingering suspicions about the plea bargaining.

"Unfortunately, one has the suspicion that if something is withheld from public view, there must be some questionable deal, a secret bargain," he said.

According to reports from participants, Agnew's attorneys objected to having the proceedings recorded on grounds that the deal might fall through and there would be no need for a permanent record.

The Justice Department team insisted on a record of the talks and the participants compromised by having the stenographer's notes sealed by the court without being transcribed, said Beall, who is now in private law practice in Baltimore.

Beall said he has written Judah Best, the Washington attorney who represented Agnew, to ask that he agree at least to transcribing the notes.

He said he has received no reply yet. Best was reported to be on vacation until Sept. 2.

Beall said he has discussed the plan with Jervis Finney, his successor as U.S. attorney in Baltimore, and that Finney indicated his approval.

A Page Of Opinion

Employment Intrusion

One of the Parkinsonian economic principles holds that in every bureaucracy work expands to meet the time available. In matters related to government bureaucracies, the work expansion is directly related to both time and funding.

Undoubtedly one of the reasons the United States Employment Service has expanded its interests in recent years is the fact that Congress has been adding generously to its annual budget. In the process, USES has been entering areas of personnel recruitment directly competitive with private employment agencies.

Competitive may not be the correct term, because USES is funded with tax monies and thus is guaranteed survival no matter how far afield it may go from sound economic principles of the industry.

Created during the depression of the 1930s to try to find employment for the unemployed, USES today is channeling some of its efforts into finding better jobs for the employed, including referrals for executives and other employed persons who normally might be expected to enlist the aid of private firms. With a budget which has nearly tripled in 10 years (to almost $600 million this year), USES is well on its way to carving out a lion's share of the employment business.

A Deadly Game

By JIM BISHOP

It was predicable that certain editorial writers would not permit the 30th anniversary of the bombing of Hiroshima to pass without lamentation and breast-beating.

William V. Shannon, writing for The New York Times, says that "the moral anguish" of the atom bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki "torments us still... There are feelings of national guilt..."

I do not pretend to know how a whole nation feels. However, I stopped the first 15 persons to emerge from a supermarket and asked if the atom bombings pinged their consciences. Twelve said, "No. Should it?" Three asked me if I was some kind of a nut.

To put the bomb in proper perspective, one has to go back to the Spring of 1945. Italy had collapsed. Germany was fighting with paper armies. Imperial Japan had been defeated by MacArthur in successive engagements up the island chain. The Japanese fleet had been defeated at Surigao Strait.

War Secretary Henry J. Stimson, accompanied by General George C. Marshall displayed a huge map of Japan to President Roosevelt. It was called "Operation Olympic." It depicted the final battles on the Japanese main islands. Cost: One million American casualties.

The Americans had three atom bombs — one was test-fired at Alamogordo, New Mexico. Two were reserved for optional targets in Japan — each target was a Japanese Army headquarters.

U.S. scientists, using uranium tests executed by Enrico Fermi in 1934, and mathematical formula devised by Lise Meitner, a German Jew, could, in time, split an atom, releasing enormous amounts of energy. These tests were open to other nations.

FDR put $2 billion into three bombs. He died. The mantle fell on Harry Truman. The first bomb was successfully tested while the President was at Potsdam, Germany, conferring with Josef Stalin and Winston Churchill.

Whatever doubt there was about using the remaining two bombs reposed almost exclusively in the hearts of left-wing scientists. They wanted to invite Japanese officers here to see one explode.

This, they thought, would influence Japan to surrender. It did not occur to them that Imperial Japan preferred death to surrender. They never asked themselves that solitary question: If Japan had the bomb, would they use it on American cities?

Truman, en route home on a heavy cruiser, radioed: "Drop it." The genie, once out of the bottle, never returns to confinement. The President knew that he had but two aces to persuade Japan to surrender.

In August, one fell on Hiroshima, the other on Nagasaki. In spite of the heavy toll in lives, the imperial high command had to believe that we had more such destructive forces. If not, she could easily sustain the loss of 180,000 lives.

The Emperor convinced the war lords and Japan should seek an end to hostilities. It was no longer necessary for the Americans to fight and die on the four main Japanese islands. Saved: 1 million Americans.

If you add up all the military budgets of all the nations in World War I, and divide it by the number of casualties, you will find that it cost $50,000 to kill one man. When the hydrogen bomb was discovered, the cost dropped to one million dead for $1 million.

A dollar a head. Today the Soviet Union and the U.S. plant steel asparagus in their farmlands. These missiles can fly and kill in 30 minutes. Does anyone ask to put that genie back in the bottle?

Does anyone believe that, if the birds fly, they will kill only soldiers and sailors? Or will they fuse great cities and their populations into something akin to melted glass?

The atom club grows bigger, not smaller. If, someday, some mad dictator of a small nation punches a button, will the other members of the club set their deadly birds winging through a night sky?

I feel no attack of conscience about the first use of the atom bomb. I am sorry for those who lived to carry the scars. But then I get to thinking about Adolf Hitler, who had no atom bomb.

Does it hurt your conscience that he killed 5 million Jews and 2 million Slavs? War, you see, is just a game of numbers...

Business World

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While the administration remains bullish on the economy not everyone agrees. Merrill Lynch is bearish.

In a report entitled "The Economic Outlook Has Changed," contained in its "Weekly Government Securities Bulletin," the nation's largest broker now foresees the economy actually declining again by early 1976.

ML is not alone in its doubts about the recovery, but it is out there all by itself in terms of its powerful influence on investors of all sizes.

Two weeks ago in its government securities bulletin the firm commented that a combination of accelerating inflation and rising interest rates could trigger responses that would risk aborting the recovery.

In its latest bulletin, dated Aug. 22 and now circulating to investors, it adds:

"These forces have now progressed far enough and for sufficient time so that we now feel that the probabilities now favor a substantially reduced rate of economic growth in the fourth quarter of this year and a shift to a small decline in the first quarter of next year."

This outlook, it observes, "is considerably different from the one we had been relying upon for some nine months or so."

Rising inflation, it said, will erode spendable income, particularly discretionary income or income that isn't required for necessities.

"Most of the price increases have been in the food area," it observes, "but wholesale and industrial prices of non-food items have also started to increase."

It said interest rates are rising "because of tighter Federal Reserve

policy and concern over inflation" rather than from any sharp increase in demand, "the only major borrower being the U.S. Treasury."

These factors, the brokerage house observes, have reduced consumer confidence, business confidence and investor confidence.

"If consumers find their real discretionary income eroding and equity values declining, they are less likely to buy big ticket items for which they have to make an extended commitment," the report states.

By October or November, the report concludes, evidence of the changing economic environment should become obvious, and "it would seem reasonable to expect the Federal Reserve to alter its policy to accommodation and away from restraint at that time."

While an easier money policy most likely would result in an economic upturn, possibly accompanied by the familiar inflation, the Merrill Lynch report makes no attempt to look beyond the first quarter of 1976.

Poll Gives Ford Nod

NEW YORK (AP) — A Harris poll says that President Ford would decisively beat former Gov. Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination if the election were held now.

In a survey taken between Aug. 6 and Aug. 10, 683 Republicans and independents said they preferred Ford to the former California governor by a 55-34 per cent margin, the pollster said Monday.

Ford was favored 60 to 32 per cent among the rank and file Republicans. With the independents, his lead was 50 to 35 per cent. Ford ran well ahead of Reagan in all parts of the country except the West where he led among Republican and independent voters by one point, 47 to 46. His home area of the Midwest gave Ford his largest margin of 61 to 28 per cent, the poll said.

Although Reagan is not a declared candidate for the GOP nomination, a formal committee in his behalf has been organized.

They'll Do It Every Time

Postal Service Losing Battle Against Mail Foulups?

By HOWARD ANGIOONE
Associated Press Writer

Americans mail almost one billion letters a week. Millions of them reach their destinations later than they should, and some never arrive. Why? Like the girl in the nursery rhyme who was either very good or horrid, the combination of machinery and human beings at work handling the U.S. mail can mesh beautifully one minute to provide good service, then mess everything up the next.

Postal officials minimize the extent of delays, claiming that service is good and complaints are declining. But examples of foulups abound:

—A company in New York mails an envelope of paychecks to its Phoenix office for distribution to employees there. The envelope arrives eight days later.

—A young woman mails a bill payment to a local department store three days before the deadline for receipt. It arrives five days after the deadline, and she is charged interest because it was late.

—Two letters, mailed in the same

box at the same time, reach neighboring destinations several days apart.

The Postal Service calculates that it provides "on time" delivery for 24 out of every 25 local letters and for 23 out of every 25 long-distance letters.

"On time" means the next day within metropolitan areas if a letter is picked up by 5 p.m.; within two days if a letter is traveling 600 miles or less; and within three days if a domestic letter must travel more than 600 miles. Sunday is not counted as a "day."

There are reasons to question the accuracy of the Postal Service figures, but if they are accepted and applied to statistics showing that there is roughly a 50-50 split between metropolitan and long-distance mail, they point to late arrival each week for 20 million metropolitan letters and 40 million long distance letters.

The sampling system the Postal Service uses to gauge delivery speed is unable to provide estimates on how many letters are lost.

From the time you put a letter in a mail box until it reaches its destination, it must cope with dozens of opportunities for delay.

Drivers assigned to collection routes have been known to miss pickups at certain boxes, a letter can get lost in the folds of a mail sack or other cracks and crevices along the way, bad weather can disrupt airplane and truck schedules, post offices may not have enough clerks on duty, and carriers can make mistakes.

But the number of delays caused by these problems are minuscule. Most often, the blame for delays — especially those of several days — can be traced to the letter-sorting process.

Any analysis of the sorting process quickly focuses on the machinery that is used, especially the large letter-sorting machines where man, machinery and the U.S. mail encounter notable success and disaster.

These machines, and the sorting clerks who operate them, handle roughly half of the letters mailed in the United States at least once — and often three or four times if a letter must be routed through several post offices.

Clerks sorting letters the old way — by hand, into a box of pigeonholes — also make mistakes, but postal officials acknowledge that the method involves fewer errors than the combination of men and machines. Officials add, however, that the hand method is slower and more expensive.

The typical letter-sorting machine — an LSM in postal jargon — is a rectangular metal box about four feet wide, taller than the walls of the average one-story house and almost twice as long.

Twelve clerks, sitting at desk-size consoles attached to the LSM, look at letters that are placed in front of them at the rate of about one per second by a little mechanical wrist with a suction cup hand. For each letter, a clerk types two or three numbers — usually part of the zip code — that the machine uses to route the envelope to one of the 277 aluminum sorting bins that honeycomb one side of the machine.

The problem is that some letters don't get to the right bins, either because the operator strikes a wrong key or because the machine makes a mistake. And some letters never get to any bin — they fall into the works and must be pulled out later, often in mutilated form. Sometimes it's possible to decipher the address, sometimes it isn't.

The government's General Accounting Office, reporting last summer on a check of LSM operations in three Southern post offices, said console operators have a "rigorous and tedious job."

GAO found that 30 per cent of the 141 operators it tested made errors 10 per cent of the time, and "only 18 per cent were within the 2 per cent error rate allowed for qualification" as an LSM operator. GAO blamed the machines themselves for errors 1.8 per cent of the time.

Apply the percentages to LSM volume, and you're quickly into the millions. Postal officials say 562 LSMs in operation nationwide sort an average of 25,000 letters per hour, eight hours per day.

Assume that man and machine have a total error rate of 5 per cent, and it works out to 702,500 mistakes per hour, or 5.62 million per day. That's still a fraction of total volume, but it's enough to cause a lot of problems. It's also expensive — GAO estimated that rehandling missorted mail cost $1,060 per day in one post office.

Postal officials say their first line of defense against mistakes is manned by clerks who empty the machine bins. The clerks riffle through the letters, culling out hundreds of missorted ones per hour. But mistakes still slip through the defense line.

Trade Surplus Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 52 per cent jump in oil imports eroded the nation's balance of foreign trade in July, but still left a surplus of nearly $1 billion, the government said today.

The Commerce Department said imports of all goods increased by 13.7 per cent in July, but exports still managed to gain 2.2 per cent. The result was a trade surplus of $977.1 million, compared to June's $1.737 billion record.

July was the sixth consecutive month in which the figures showed a surplus. Exports were $6.4 billion ahead of imports for the year to date, a sharp reversal of 1974's $2.3-billion deficit.

Analysts have been expecting all year an eventual deterioration in the nation's trade accounts as the U.S. economy returns to health. The recovery increases demand for the imported oil which industry needs and for the consumer goods which Americans stopped buying when the recession set in.

The Commerce Department's latest figures, however, showed that the nation's foreign trade still is providing strong support to the domestic economy.

It was unclear whether the surge in oil imports was the start of the expected trend toward steadily increasing imports.

Postal Service Losing Battle Against Mail Foulups?

By HOWARD ANGIOINE
Associated Press Writer

Americans mail almost one billion letters a week. Millions of them reach their destinations later than they should, and some never arrive. Why?

Like the girl in the nursery rhyme who was either very good or horrid, the combination of machinery and human beings at work handling the U.S. mail can mesh beautifully one minute to provide good service, then mess everything up the next.

Postal officials minimize the extent of delays, claiming that service is good and complaints are declining. But examples of foulups abound:

—A company in New York mails an envelope of paychecks to its Phoenix office for distribution to employees there. The envelope arrives eight days later.

—A young woman mails a bill payment to a local department store three days before the deadline for receipt. It arrives five days after the deadline, and she is charged interest because it was late.

—Two letters, mailed in the same

box at the same time, reach neighboring destinations several days apart.

The Postal Service calculates that it provides "on time" delivery for 24 out of every 25 local letters and for 23 out of every 25 long-distance letters.

"On time" means the next day within metropolitan areas if a letter is picked up by 5 p.m.; within two days if a letter is traveling 600 miles or less; and within three days if a domestic letter must travel more than 600 miles. Sunday is not counted as a "day."

There are reasons to question the accuracy of the Postal Service figures, but if they are accepted and applied to statistics showing that there is roughly a 50-50 split between metropolitan and long-distance mail, they point to late arrival each week for 20 million metropolitan letters and 40 million long distance letters.

The sampling system the Postal Service uses to gauge delivery speed is unable to provide estimates on how many letters are lost.

From the time you put a letter in a mail box until it reaches its destination, it must cope with dozens of opportunities for delay.

Drivers assigned to collection routes have been known to miss pickups at certain boxes, a letter can get lost in the folds of a mail sack or other cracks and crevices along the way, bad weather can disrupt airplane and truck schedules, post offices may not have enough clerks on duty, and carriers can make mistakes.

But the number of delays caused by these problems are minuscule. Most often, the blame for delays — especially those of several days — can be traced to the letter-sorting process.

Any analysis of the sorting process quickly focuses on the machinery that is used, especially the large letter-sorting machines where man, machinery and the U.S. mail encounter notable success and disaster.

These machines, and the sorting clerks who operate them, handle roughly half of the letters mailed in the United States at least once — and often three or four times if a letter must be routed through several post offices.

Clerks sorting letters the old way — by hand, into a box of pigeonholes — also make mistakes, but postal officials acknowledge that the method involves fewer errors than the combination of men and machines. Officials add, however, that the hand method is slower and more expensive.

The typical letter-sorting machine — an LSM in postal jargon — is a rectangular metal box about four feet wide, taller than the walls of the average one-story house and almost twice as long.

Twelve clerks, sitting at desk-size consoles attached to the LSM, look at letters that are placed in front of them at the rate of about one per second by a little mechanical wrist with a suction cup hand. For each letter, a clerk types two or three numbers — usually part of the zip code — that the machine uses to route the envelope to one of the 277 aluminum sorting bins that honeycomb one side of the machine.

The problem is that some letters don't get to the right bins, either because the operator strikes a wrong key or because the machine makes a mistake. And some letters never get to any bin — they fall into the works and must be pulled out later, often in mutilated form. Sometimes it's possible to decipher the address, sometimes it isn't.

the time.

Apply the percentages to LSM volume, and you're quickly into the millions. Postal officials say 562 LSMs in operation nationwide sort an average of 25,000 letters per hour, eight hours per day.

Assume that man and machine have a total error rate of 5 per cent, and it works out to 702,500 mistakes per hour, or 5.62 million per day. That's still a fraction of total volume, but it's enough to cause a lot of problems. It's also expensive — GAO estimated that rehandling missorted mail cost $1,060 per day in one post office.

Postal officials say their first line of defense against mistakes is manned by clerks who empty the machine bins. The clerks riffle through the letters, culling out hundreds of missorted ones per hour. But mistakes still slip through the defense line.

An Associated Press reporter, who wondered how many mistakes are not caught, obtained permission to check the trays where letters are placed after they have been riffled by clerks.

Any letter not headed for the destination marked on the tray faces a needless journey, unless it is lucky enough to be caught in one of the spot checks postal officials say are made of riffling efficiency.

On visits to six post offices in five Eastern cities, the reporter selected at random trays containing letters not due to be looked at again until they reached post offices in the Midwest and West.

Out of 4,657 letters checked, 267 — or 5.7 per cent — would have gone astray for several days if they had not been spotted by the reporter. They included 128 letters that would normally have reached their destinations the next day.

Even if a letter reaches the correct

LSM bin, however, it still faces sorting hazards that can cause long delays.

Every so often a riffing clerk takes a handful of envelopes from a bin and eliminates mistakes, but places the bundle in the wrong tray. That appeared to have been the reason for many of the errors in the tray of mail from Kansas City — missorted letters appeared in clusters, suggesting that a clerk had mistakenly put handfuls of letters for Missouri cities in the tray for New York mail.

Once a tray is filled, new hazards for misrouting appear. The letters travel in bags or in cardboard containers that postal workers say are occasionally mislabeled. And even if correctly labeled, it's possible for dock workers to load the bags on the wrong truck.

In its report on mail delays, the GAO concluded: "The Service has not been completely successful in meeting its first-class mail delivery standards."

Hostage Appeal Nixed By Court

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Larry Napoleon Cooper, who threatened to kill nonexistent hostages in 1974 if he were not allowed four hours of airtime on a New York City radio station, lost his appeal bid Monday.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the Cooper's conviction, ruling "that he cannot escape the consequences of this action by the fact that his alleged 'hostage' was not an actual person."

Cooper, who was living in Wooster, Ohio at the time, contended that since he was not holding a hostage he had not violated the state statute.

The incident occurred on March 16, 1974, when WABC in New York City was told by a telephone caller to provide free radio time or be responsible for the death of the hostages supposedly kidnapped.

Miss Darlene Sue Lambert, Keith Allen Ebert Are Wed

MR. AND MRS. KEITH ALLEN EBERT

Miss Darlene Sue Lambert and Mr. Keith Allen Ebert were united in marriage on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lambert, Route 3, Circleville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ebert, Route 2, Laurelville.

The Rev. Henry Hix, uncle of the bride, officiated the double ring ceremony 7 p.m., Aug. 14. The bride and groom stood under an arch decorated in pink, yellow, blue, green and white with matching streamer at each side.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she wore a street length white polyester knit dress with a pastel floral print jacket and white picture hat with yellow streamers. She carried a bouquet of multi-colored summer flowers with yellow streamers.

Miss Katherine Lambert served her sister as bridesmaid. She wore a blue polyester knit street length dress and carried a bouquet of multi-colored carnations with white streamers.

The bridegroom's cousin, Mr. Brent Ebert of Laurelville, performed the duties of best man.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents immediately followed the ceremony. The wedding cake, decorated with yellow and green flowers, was flanked with heart shaped candles in green and yellow candle holders.

Home Arts-Crafts Adds New Exhibits For Pumpkin Show

Home Arts and Crafts exhibitors for this year's Pumpkin Show, are being invited to get into the Spirit of '76 by either making a Bicentennial costume or making an entry with a local historical motif. Mrs. Sterling Poling, Home Arts and Crafts chairman reports that she and her committee, knowing the ingenuity of their exhibitors, expect to see many of the county's historical sites reproduced in a variety of media on everything from waste baskets to cushions. A special award is to be given for the entry which the judges feel makes the best use of a local historical motif.

The Bicentennial costume may be modeled by its creator or by any member of her immediate family. Judging in this class will be primarily on appropriateness and authentic appearance of the costume and its accessories.

Another Bicentennial class planned for this year will be baby dresses of historical interest. The committee hopes that there will be a number of dresses, at least 50 years old, to be exhibited.

Three craft classes which have historical interests are being added for the show this year. These are loom weaving, quilling and handmade candles.

Mrs. Marion's Class Meets Tuesday

Mrs. Joe Sheets Regional Director Visits Garden Club

Logan Elm Garden Club held its August meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Leslie Dearth, Kingston with 12 members and one guest, Mrs. Joe Sheets, present.

Mrs. Dearth read quotations from famous poets and the poem "Be A Friend" by Edgar A. Guest.

The new slate of officers was presented by Mrs. Dearth as: Mrs. Winford K. Dumm, president; Mrs. Neil Morris, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Bower, secretary; Mrs. Wayne Morris, treasurer.

Mrs. Doris Edwards told of club members participating in flower shows at Pickaway County Fair.

A card was signed to be sent to Gilda Byers, a patient in Riverside Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. Sheets, regional director, told of "Day Out For Gardeners" sponsored by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs. It will be held Sept. 17, at Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in Wooster. Reservations are to be sent to Mrs. Harry Pamer, 548 N. Portage St., Doyelstown 44230. Guests are welcome.

The date of the next meeting was changed to Sept. 16, at the home of Mrs. Doris Edwards.

Yvonne Drake won the chance gift brought by Mrs. Wayne Morris.

FAMILY DINNER

Quick Chili, tossed green salad with carrot curls, fresh fruit pie.

Quick Chili

Tomato soup is one of the thriftiest canned tomato products that can be put to use in this dish.

1 pound ground beef
Large onion, chopped
Small green pepper, seeded and chopped

2 cloves garlic, minced
1 tablespoon (or more) chili powder
10 1/2 ounce can condensed tomato soup
1-pound can red kidney beans, undrained

In a 10-inch skillet cook the beef, crumbling with a fork, until it loses its red color. Add the remaining ingredients and mix well. Cover and simmer, stirring several times, for about 20 minutes. Serve, if you like, with help-yourself toppings of grated cheddar cheese and chopped sweet onion or finely shredded iceberg lettuce; pass crisp soda crackers. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

COMPANY SUPPER

Ham kebabs with barbecue sauce, brown rice, green peas, fruit short-cake.

Barbecue Sauce

It's a zesty concoction that may be used with luncheon meat as well as ham.

Medium onion, finely chopped
1/2 small green pepper, finely chopped

1-3rd cup undrained sweet pickle relish
1-3rd cup cider vinegar
1 cup chili sauce

2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat stir together all the ingredients; bring to a boil; simmer about 15 minutes. Makes over 2 cups.

Bales Family Holds Reunion

The Bales family reunion was held Saturday at Wardell's Party Home.

Family members are, Mrs. R. R. Bales, 207 E. Main St., Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bales, Princeton, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Moore, Winnetka, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bales Jr., Patricia, Elizabeth and Susan, Jenkintown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bales, Tina and Katie, Huntingden Valley, Pa.

Richard Bales, Tampa, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Phillippe Demenge, Isabelle and Sophie, Toulon, France; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Romero and Rick, Tucson, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lloyd, Chicago, Ill.

Fall Conference Planned By Garden Club Of Ohio Inc.

The Fall Conference of Garden Club of Ohio, Inc., will meet from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., Sept. 11, at Worthington Hills Country Club, Clubview Blvd., Worthington. All garden club members are urged to attend.

Dr. Phillip Kozel of the Department of Horticulture at Ohio State University will speak on "New Plantings Available." Brunch will be served at noon.

Afternoon speakers are Mrs. Harold A. Bird Jr., state president, and Ed Hutchins, Director of Metropolitan Parks, who will show slides of Inniswood Garden Center.

For further information contact Mrs. Bernard E. Savy at 474-2795 before Sept. 6.

Westminster Class To Meet Tuesday

Westminster Bible Class of First Presbyterian Church will meet 2 p.m. Tuesday in the church lounge.

A card was signed to be sent to Golda Byers, a patient in Riverside Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. Sheets, regional director, told of "Day Out For Gardeners" sponsored by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs. It will be held Sept. 17, at Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center in Wooster. Reservations are to be sent to Mrs. Harry Pamer, 548 N. Portage St., Doyelstown 44230. Guests are welcome.

The date of the next meeting was changed to Sept. 16, at the home of Mrs. Doris Edwards.

Yvonne Drake won the chance gift brought by Mrs. Wayne Morris.

FAMILY DINNER

Quick Chili, tossed green salad with carrot curls, fresh fruit pie.

Quick Chili

Tomato soup is one of the thriftiest canned tomato products that can be put to use in this dish.

1 pound ground beef
Large onion, chopped
Small green pepper, seeded and chopped

2 cloves garlic, minced
1 tablespoon (or more) chili powder
10½ ounce can condensed tomato soup
1-pound can red kidney beans, undrained

In a 10-inch skillet cook the beef, crumbling with a fork, until it loses its red color. Add the remaining ingredients and mix well. Cover and simmer, stirring several times, for about 20 minutes. Serve, if you like, with help-yourself toppings of grated cheddar cheese and chopped sweet onion or finely shredded iceberg lettuce; pass crisp soda crackers. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

COMPANY SUPPER

Ham kebabs with barbecue sauce, brown rice, green peas, fruit short-cake.

Barbecue Sauce

It's a zesty concoction that may be used with luncheon meat as well as ham.

Medium onion, finely chopped
½ small green pepper, finely chopped

1-3rd cup undrained sweet pickle relish
1-3rd cup cider vinegar
1 cup chili sauce

2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat stir together all the ingredients; bring to a boil; simmer about 15 minutes. Makes over 2 cups.

Bales Family Holds Reunion

The Bales family reunion was held Saturday at Wardell's Party Home.

Family members are, Mrs. R. R. Bales, 207 E. Main St., Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bales, Princeton, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Moore, Winnetka, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bales Jr., Patricia, Elizabeth and Susan, Jenkintown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bales, Tina and Katie, Huntingden Valley, Pa.

Richard Bales, Tampa, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Phillippe Demenge, Isabelle and Sophie, Toulon, France; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Romero and Rick, Tucson, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lloyd, Chicago, Ill.

Fall Conference Planned By Garden Club Of Ohio Inc.

The Fall Conference of Garden Club of Ohio, Inc., will meet from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., Sept. 11, at Worthington Hills Country Club, Clubview Blvd., Worthington. All garden club members are urged to attend.

Dr. Phillip Koze of the Department of Horticulture at Ohio State University will speak on "New Plantings Available." Brunch will be served at noon.

Afternoon speakers are Mrs. Harold A. Bird Jr., state president, and Ed Hutchins, Director of Metropolitan Parks, who will show slides of Inniswood Garden Center.

For further information contact Mrs. Bernard E. Savey at 474-2795 before Sept. 6.

Westminster Class To Meet Tuesday

Westminster Bible Class of First Presbyterian Church will meet 2 p.m. Tuesday in the church lounge.

Pound cake tastes delicious when it is given a lemon glaze. To do so, blend a cup of confectioners' sugar with a tablespoon or two of lemon juice and coat cake with the mixture.

Mayor-Elect Given Ticket

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mayor-elect Richard Fulton found a parking ticket on his car, parked in the mayor's spot at the courthouse.

Fulton, who gave up a seat in the U.S. House to seek the $25,000-a-year mayor's job, said Monday he'll pay the $5 fine, but he said he also plans to get some identification for his car.

"I can't afford this every day," said Fulton, who takes office Sept. 1.

MODERN HAM IS LOWER IN FAT

Ham is a hind leg of pork. It may be fresh, cured or cured and smoked. Several styles and sizes of ham are featured in our meat departments this week. Today's hams are lower in fat and calories with a higher percentage of lean and protein than the hams of the past.

Salt was used to first cure ham in Pre-Christian times. The cured ham was served at pagan festivals. Refrigeration has changed the concepts of curing. Hams are now cured and smoked to improve flavor rather than preserve the meat.

Columbus may have brought the first hogs to America. Spanish explorers in Florida also brought hogs with them and the American Indians were soon enjoying roast pork.

Virginia, Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee are famous for their hams. The differences in taste between hams result from the breed of hog, what the hog eats, the brines used in curing and the fuel used in curing and the fuel used to smoke the ham.

When buying ham allow three-fourths to one pound per serving for a ham with bone and one-fourth to one-third pound per serving for boneless hams.

Leftovers from a large baked ham can be used in a variety of ways. In this recipe, the ham bone with some of the meat still on it is simmered with vegetables.

HAM AND CABBAGE

1 Large, Meaty Ham Bone	1 Medium-Sized Head Of Cabbage
1 Large Onion, Cut In Quarters	Cut In Wedges
4 Potatoes, Cut In Quarters	4 Carrots, Split And Quartered

Place ham bone and onion in a Dutch oven and cover with cold water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Add cabbage wedges, carrots and potatoes and more water if necessary. Simmer until vegetables are tender. Serve with pan juices. This recipe makes four servings.

Larry Stant Is Guest Speaker At Circleville Kiwanis Club

SWIMMER AND COACH—Larry Stant, Pickaway County's record holding paraplegic swimmer, was the guest speaker at Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday. He is shown here with his coach Jim Shea.

World class paraplegic swimmer Larry Stant, 1995 Ottawa Drive, was the guest speaker at Circleville Kiwanis Club Monday.

Stant holds 13 swim records, including one national mark, 11 state records in three states and one Pan-American record. He told Kiwanians that being involved in the sport of swimming has helped him overcome the handicap of being confined to a wheelchair.

He received a standing ovation from Kiwanians following his talk. Stant's coach, Jim Shea, told Kiwanians that Larry has already been selected to the 1976 United States Wheelchair Olympic Team and will swim in Montreal, Canada, the week following the regular Olympic Games.

"Larry and I are dedicating ourselves to one thing, and that is to bring some Olympic medals home to Circleville," Shea said.

Another highlight of the meeting was a special award presented to Kiwanian Dick Wylie. The award, from Kiwanis 10-S division was the "10 most wanted men" award, was given to Wylie who is chairman of the Circleville Kiwanis Membership Development Committee for having secured over 10 new Kiwanians so far this year.

President Charles Ried announced there will be no meeting Labor Day but there would be a roundtable meeting at Pickaway Arms 7 p.m. Sept. 3 which would be followed by the regular monthly meeting of the Kiwanis Board of Directors.

Direct Deposit Of Social Security Available In Ohio

People who live in Ohio and 11 other States in the South and Middle West are getting a special opportunity to have their monthly social security and supplemental security income checks deposited directly in their checking or savings accounts, according to Harry B. Bieber, social security district manager in Chillicothe.

"The direct deposit program is entirely voluntary," Bieber said. "People who want their social security and supplemental security income checks to continue coming to their homes shouldn't do anything. Their checks will keep on coming as in the past."

"But people who want their checks mailed to a bank, savings bank, savings and loan association or similar institution or a Federal or State chartered credit union can arrange for it with a direct deposit authorization form," he said.

Direct deposit information is being mailed with checks that will be delivered in September to people who get monthly social security or supplemental security income payments. The direct deposit authorization form — SF-1199 is available at savings and loan associations, banks, credit unions, and similar organizations.

Completion of the form does not permit withdrawals from an account by anyone other than people authorized.

People whose checks are already being mailed to a financial organization should also make direct deposit arrangements with the SF-1199 form. The direct deposit program will help prevent loss and theft of social security and supplemental security income checks and will eliminate standing in line to cash or deposit them.

The direct deposit option is also being offered to people getting social security and supplemental security income checks in Alabama, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Wisconsin.

The option has already been offered in Georgia, Florida, and 23 States west of the Mississippi River. The program will be extended to the other States later this year.

Michigan Bank Holdup Averted

ROCKWOOD, Mich. (AP) — An alleged bank robber was captured Tuesday after he crashed through a plate glass window to escape a policeman's bullets, officers reported.

State Police also arrested five suspected accomplices as they left the holdup scene in a van.

Rockwood Police Chief Bernard Herzog said Patrolman Dennis Kozole was in a restaurant near the bank in this Detroit suburb when a woman told him there was "trouble at the bank."

At the bank, Kozole found a lone gunman, and a bank executive said the robber threw his briefcase down, spreading money across the floor as Kozole entered.

Kozole and the gunman exchanged shots and the robber was hit as he jumped through the window, police said. Kozole was not injured.

Other officers arrested the gunman outside the bank.

A State Policeman said the suspected robber and the five men in the van were all from Ohio. Their names were withheld pending a request for warrants, which was to be issued today.

Bank officials said all the money was recovered.

It will be mostly sunny over Ohio today with temperatures ranging from the upper 70s north to the mid 80s in the extreme south. Humidities will be generally more agreeable. Clear skies will bring comfortably cool weather tonight.

Temperatures will be on a rising trend Thursday with highs in the 80s.

The sultry weather and thunderstorms of the last few days finally have given way to a drier air mass moving in from the northwest.

Temperatures were several degrees cooler over much of northern Ohio last night. At daybreak, most readings were in the 60s. The coolest section was in the northwest, where Toledo reported 55 degrees. In the southeast corner of the state it was still around 70.

The morning weather map showed a cold front across West Virginia and Kentucky. High pressure over southern Wisconsin this morning will move across the Great Lakes tonight to western New York by Thursday morning.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Boyfriend's Kisses Not Helping

DEAR ABBY: I'm going with a wonderful guy named Morris. He's a terrific fellow, but he has one fault. When he kisses me, he gets carried away and bites my lips. After an evening with Morris, my lips are bruised and raw-sometimes they even bleed!

My mother keeps asking me what's the matter with my lips, and I keep making up excuses. (They're "chapped.")

Will you please tell me how I can get Morris to take it easy when he kisses me? I have told him a dozen times not to be so rough, but he forgets. This is no put-on.

SORE LIPS

DEAR SORE: When Morris "forgets" and gets rough, give him a good klop on the back to remind him to take it easy. And keep it up until he's conditioned.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 34-year-old widow who fell in love with a married man. (I'll call him Rex.) He has two children. We've been seeing each other for 18 months, and I love him dearly. Rex says he loves me and needs me, and as soon as he's financially able to swing it, he'll divorce his wife and marry me.

Rex still lives with his wife, but claims that he has had nothing to do with her since he met me. Here is the part that just about drove me to suicide: He told me yesterday that his wife is now pregnant! He swears it isn't his, but how can I be sure?

I have an 8-year-old son who worships Rex, and if I were to break off with him, it would be almost as though my son were losing another father because Rex treats him like a son.

How much longer should I give Rex?

LOVES HIM

DEAR LOVES: The advice from here is say goodbye now and tell Rex that you don't want to see his face until he is a free man.

In the meantime, you'd better start planning your life without him because as I see it, that is what you will have to do eventually.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the man whose wife is driving him up the wall by her constant use of "you know" in every sentence.

Evacuate 12 In Truck Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — More than a dozen people were evacuated from a residential area on Toledo's south side early today when a Gulf Oil Co. truck containing 8,500 gallons of gasoline overturned and exploded.

The accident happened on Ohio 2 and was spotted by a Toledo patrolman shortly after midnight. The patrolman pulled the driver from the truck, which minutes later exploded.

Police said its motor, which was still running, apparently ignited spilled gasoline.

The explosion and fire disrupted power service in the area.

Police said there were no injuries.

Authorities said about 65 firemen were called to put out the fire while about 25 policemen were assigned to control crowds that gathered in the area.

Man On Bedding Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Myron E. Shaffer, 52, of Columbus was reappointed Monday to the Bedding Advisory Board, representing manufacturing. He has been a member of the Ohio Bedding Advisory Board since 1968.

VILLAGE OF ASHVILLE, OHIO

LEGAL NOTICE
Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Clerk of Village Council of Ashville, Ohio, in the Village of Ashville, Ohio, until 12:30 o'clock noon (E.D.S.T.), on the 11th day of September, 1975, at which time the said day said proposals will be publicly opened and read for the construction of project known as "Jefferson Street Improvement Project, Village of Ashville, Ohio". By furnishing all materials, labor, and equipment necessary to complete the project.

Work shall include grading, draining, and paving, installation of curb & gutter including storm sewers on portions of Jefferson Avenue and Station Street, Village of Ashville, Ohio.

Bid proposals shall be submitted on standard proposal forms only, obtainable from Dumond-Sifford & Associates, Engineers & Surveyors, 122 1/2 S. Court Street, Circleville, Ohio, 43115. Each bid must contain the full name of every person or company interested in the bid.

Cost of plans shall be $10.00 per set non-refundable.

Each proposal shall be submitted on the forms provided and according to the instructions supplied. Each proposal shall also be accompanied by the bid bond given in favor of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, for an amount equal to five (5) percent of the total amount of the bid. The bid bond shall be either a bond issued by a surety company authorized to do business in the state of Ohio or a certified check on any solvent bank made payable to the order of the clerk, Village of Ashville, Ohio. If the bidder fails or refuses to enter into a written contract within ten (10) days after notice of acceptance of his proposal, the bidder shall forfeit to the Village of Ashville, Ohio, his bid bond. Should a bid be rejected such check will be returned to the bidder.

The Village of Ashville reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By Order of the Council, Village of Ashville, Ohio.

MD Carnival Planned

A Neighborhood Carnival Against Muscular Dystrophy will be held 2-5 p.m. Saturday at 423 E. Mound St., with Patty Clark serving as the Ringmaster.

Games and food will be featured at the carnival.

Comic strips were invented by an Ohioan, Richard F. Outcault, 1863-1928. Born in Lancaster, before 1900 he drew "The Yellow Kid," for Sunday editions of The New York Times and later created "Buster Brown."

'Sunshine Bill' Foes Unhappy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two youthful members of the Ohio House, sons of fathers who once served as speakers of that chamber, voted "no" on the open meetings bill approved by the recently adjourned 111th General Assembly.

The two dissenters, among a handful of members voting in opposition, were Reps. Charles R. Saxbe, R-75 Mechanicsburg, and C. William O'Neill, R-28 Columbus.

Saxbe's father is U.S. Ambassador to India and a former U.S. Attorney General; O'Neill's father is Chief Justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. Both young men said they favored the legislation in concept, but felt it was hurriedly written and, in effect, created more problems than it solved.

The younger O'Neill, whose father was speaker in 1947-1948 and governor from 1958-1960, said the open meetings measure was "a very simple bill on a very complex subject."

The 28-year-old Columbus attorney noted that as written the bill would enable an applicant for a professional license to sit in on a meeting of a state board that was making up questions for a qualifying examination.

"There are a lot of other things in the bill that we will have to come back later and clean up," he said.

Saxbe said he agreed generally with O'Neill that the bill created problems, particularly with local governments where he felt it would invite "disruptive participation by those more interested in disrupting the governmental process than they are in having open meetings."

The freshman lawmaker, 27, also objected, he said, to the exclusion of the General Assembly from the bill's provisions.

Denver L. White Remains In Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Denver L. White, former state welfare director, was reappointed Monday to the Rehabilitation Services Commission by the governor.

White, 63, of Columbus was administrator of the Ohio Rehabilitation Services Commission for four years.

White is a member of Ohio Rehabilitation Association and Citizens Committee on Comprehensive Mental Health Planning.

Saxbe said he understood that the Ohio Constitution permits the legislature and its committees to go into executive session by a two-thirds vote of the their members, and that drafters of the bill felt they couldn't legally include the legislature.

"But, I just don't think it's right for us to tell everyone else what they have to do, and then exclude ourselves," Saxbe said. "That might be all right for the state agencies, but not the local governments."

Urge More Power For Lottery Chief

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ohio law should be amended to give the lottery director authority to hire and fire, Ohio Lottery Commission Chairman David Leahy says.

"If politics can be eliminated from the Ohio lottery, I'm for it," he added. "If the answer is civil service, fine."

But Leahy said Monday there was no need for a special meeting of the commission to deal with these matters or the suggestion of Commissioner Mary E. Yates that the commission seek other legislation.

The first skyscraper in the United States was built by the Home Insurance Co. in Chicago. Originally in 1885 it was only 10 stories. Two were added later.

CEMETERY FLAG—Mrs. Eleanor Moss and Mrs. Kathleen Hoffman of the American Legion Auxiliary help Bill Clifton of Dynamic Sales raise the American Flag the group purchased on a new pole in the High Street Cemetery. Mrs. Moss, immediate past president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Hoffman, past Americanism chairman, were instrumental in completing the Bicentennial project for the auxiliary.

Dog Days Shouldn't Happen To A Dog

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— The dog days of summer shouldn't happen to a dog, according to one of the nation's 13 veterinary dermatologists.

"When you start hearing people sneeze from ragweed, that's about the time you can expect to see pet owners lining up outside your door with their dogs," sniffled Dr. Pat Breen, himself a hay fever sufferer.

His patients may not sniffle or sneeze, but they sure get itchy as the pollen count rises, and Dr. Breen said that many of their complaints are almost human.

"Dogs are allergic to pollens, molds and house dust," Dr. Breen said. "It used to be thought that dogs were just suffering from some kind of grass fungus, but that's not necessarily the case."

The dog can also be smothered by affection, according to Dr. Breen who warned that those new wool doggie sweaters can be nothing but a nuisance to a pet who is allergic to wool.

"I had one dog who broke out in a rash when his owner bought him a plastic bowl," Dr. Breen said. "Then when the owner switched to crockery, the rash slowly cleared up."

Cats are more fortunate than their canine compatriots, according to Dr. Breen.

"They have very few allergies except every once in a while you run across a cat who is allergic to dust," he said.

Horses are susceptible to pollen attacks when August 15th rolls around and the ragweed starts to bloom.

"It becomes very difficult for some horses to breathe and some of them find it difficult to run around this time of year," Dr. Breen said.

Dr. Breen also has a variety of other animals whose symptoms he must treat. For instance, there are a few guinea pigs who come down with watery eyes or rabbits who break out in a rash.

And there once was a gorilla at the Cincinnati Zoo who couldn't stomach the regular primate diet. So a special rice bread had to be developed.

But there's one patient that Dr. Breen hasn't been too successful with. "You have to be patient when you've got an allergy," Dr. Breen, "and no one knows that more than me. Not only do I have hay fever, but I'm also allergic to some kinds of animals."

"Put me in a room with a long-haired cat and I start sneezing like crazy."

The 22nd amendment to the Constitution, limiting a President to two terms, was ratified in 1951.

Teays Valley Adopts Free Meal Policy

The Teays Valley Local School District announced its policy for free meals and free milk for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility:

Family Size:	Income
1	$ 3,230
2	4,240
3	5,250
4	6,260
5	7,190
6	8,110
7	8,950
8	9,790
9	10,550
10	11,310
11	12,060
12	12,810

Each Additional Family Member, 750.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free meals and free milk. In addition, families not meeting these criteria but with other unusual expenses due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to: Mr. Benis Lutz, Superintendent, Route 2, Ashville, 43103, or phone 983-4111 or Columbus, 224-4700, for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure.

Each school and the board of education administrative office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

New Criminal Code Hit By Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some moves already have been taken in Congress and others are being planned to overcome criticism of sections of a proposed new federal criminal code. The sections on espionage and disclosure of classified information are among the most controversial parts of a massive measure to update and consolidate federal criminal laws. The bill is the culmination of nearly 10 years of study and extensive hearings. Sens. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., the chief Senate sponsors of the legislation, hope for action on it by the Senate Judiciary Committee after Congress returns from its August vacation.

However, both have said recently that they are willing to consider changes in provisions barring unauthorized disclosure of national defense information and other classified material.

Hruska announced late last week that he will offer amendments "to spell out more particularly" guarantees of free expression when the Judiciary Committee takes up the bill.

The amendments he outlined include one to narrow the definition of national defense information and another to require showing an intention to prejudice the safety of the United States or its armed forces in prosecutions for unauthorized disclosure.

These sections have been attacked by news media groups as amounting to an official secrets act that could be used to stifle reporting of government errors and misdeeds.

McClellan, chairman of the judiciary subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures, and Hruska, the ranking minority member, dispute this.

At the heart of the controversy is the difficult task of balancing the protection of national security with a free and open society.

Also included in the hundreds of other provisions in the bill are restoration of the death penalty in certain circumstances, compensation for victims of violent crimes, reduced penalties for simple possession of small amounts of marijuana, appellate review of sentences in federal criminal cases, restrictions on distribution of

Federal Price Regulation Feared

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation cautioned Monday that a proposed federal consumer protection agency could bring about government price regulations.

Wallace Hirschfeld said the agency could ask for the release of federal grain stockpiles or halt export of grain in an attempt to reduce food prices.

"If farmers are stopped from exporting their produce despite clearly adequate domestic supply, what is the future for other producers?" asked Hirschfeld. "It's entirely possible in this day of cockeyed economics that such an agency could view all exports as evil."

Hirschfeld represents 64,000 farmers and their families in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gatwood of Columbus were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Betz.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Roy Adams planted potatoes for all the family, they had a family potato dig over the weekend and a picnic dinner on Sunday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wisenberger of South Point, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bayes, Teresa and Gregg of Louisville, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wisenberger and James of Ironton and Miss Lois Wisenberger of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. William Meadows returned home Thursday from a two-week visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meadows and daughters, Gracie and Joan Claire, in Midland, Texas. A high point of their trip was a visit to the famous Carlsbad Caverns.

Mrs. James Search returned home Saturday after three days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Evans and family in Merrillville, Indiana. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hoyt and children Judy, Jim and Chris of Westerville. Monday callers of Mrs. Search were Mrs. Hoyt and children, Teresa and Tammy Shattuck and Mrs.

Cincinnati Policeman Shot Down

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A nine-year veteran policeman was shot to death late Tuesday night when he attempted to stop a man firing shots into the air from the street in front of a bar.

Dead was Specialist William Loftin, 36, a member of the vice squad and former narcotics agent.

Police Chief Carl Goodin said charges would be filed later today against a 52-year-old Cincinnati man, who is in hospital custody following surgery for wounds believed received during an exchange with Loftin's partner.

Loftin, who was under consideration for a commendation following an unsuccessful attempt to save a drowning girl, was "working the bars in Avondale," at the time of the shooting, according to Goodin.

Loftin was the third Cincinnati officer killed in a little more than a year and the second black killed in the history of the department, Goodin said.

Homicide Lt. Daniel Cash indicated more arrests might follow. He said "about 20 witnesses are being questioned."

Both Cash and Goodin denied the shooting was connected with a homicide in the neighborhood earlier in the evening.

Michael Crowder, 21, of Cincinnati, was shot to death in a service station less than 200 feet from the bar. Two assailants escaped.

James Lewis and daughters, Elaine, Beth and Shelley.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks and sons, Eric and Nathan of Circleville and his mother, Mrs. Russell Brooks were guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Clem Keith and family in Canton, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. Some of the places they visited were the Football Hall of Fame, The McKinley Monument and Museum and The Stan Hywet Hall and Gardens.

Whisler Volunteer Firemen and families enjoyed a fish-fry and picnic in the woods at Harold Moss' farm last Sunday afternoon and evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Neal Bethel, Tanya, Joe and Rob, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnhart, Mr. and Mrs. Don Minor, Cindy and Donnie, Mr. Larry Moss and Sherri, Mr. Kenneth Moss, Mrs. Francis Hunter, Mrs. Wanda Smith, Mr. Larry Matthew, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moss, Tim, Gregg, Teresa, Annette and Mark, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Moss, Beth and Denise.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Worf of Chillicothe were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips.

Terry Dresbach was the guest of Douglas Baker at his home in Circleville over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller and Mrs. John Brandon were Sunday luncheon guests of his mother, Mrs. Charles Miller. Mrs. Brandon was enroute to her home in Chillicothe after visiting her son-in-law and daughter at their home in Grove City.

Mrs. George Targee and children, Jennifer and Katie of Billings, Montana have been visiting her father, Mr. Clarence Lyons, Peter, Amy and Jan of Kingston, Route 2 and Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Targee at Rocky Fork.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ours were among the guests helping his son, Mr. Harold Ours celebrate his birthday, Sunday at his home on Chillicothe, Route 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hampp and P.J. were camping-out at Buffalo Trails in the Londonderry area last week.

Mrs. Opal Davis of Leesburg, Florida spent two days last week with Mrs. Luadah Hartman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim DeLong and children, Michele and Gary of Mt. Clemens, Michigan visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DeLong last weekend. His father is convalescing after recent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kerns and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brooks of Circleville attended a cook-out and picnic at the home of another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buskirk, in Columbus, Sunday afternoon.

Baby Boom On The Way

WASHINGTON (AP) A new baby boom may be coming.

"In sum, our evidence suggests that the American birth rate may have bottomed out and that the country is likely to see a rise in reproduction," a pair of population experts say.

If it occurs, the boom will come from women who decided in the 1960s to postpone having their children, a decision which pushed the U.S. birth rate to its lowest level.

The two California demographers, social statisticians, say the women who are now in their 20s and 30s still intend to have children and will start making up for lost time.

The two are June Sklar, a research demographer at the University of California at Berkeley, and Beth Berkov, a demographic analyst for the California Department of Health. They wrote about their findings in the current issue of "Scientific" magazine.

An estimated 100,000 persons drowned in 1911 when the Yangtze River in China overflowed its banks, flooding the area.

Tigers Sharpen Claws For Grid Season

THE CIRCLEVILLE TIGERS

"We have had the finest two-a-day pre season practices since I have been at Circleville which is a definite asset as we get ready for the opening of the 1975 football season Sept. 5 at Chillicothe," stated head coach Larry Cook.

"This is due to excellent physical conditioning and splendid team spirit, pride and unity. All these factors go to make up good morale and with this type attitude a team is going to be successful—And we are going to be successful," Cook commented.

The Tiger squad consists of 42 players with 14 lettermen, including four two-year lettermen. The team is composed of 10 seniors, 14 juniors and 18 sophomores.

Four seniors will captain the Red and Black this year. They are: Brent Mancini, quarterback and middle safety, 6-feet, 145-pound; Biff Bumgarner, tailback, 6-feet, 190-pound; Tom Strawser, center, 5-feet-11, 175-pound; and Tim Hartinger, guard, 5-feet-11, 175-pound. All four will work both offensively and defensively.

Returning lettermen are: Brent Mancini, 2-year; Frank Merrill, wing back and 5-yard halfback, 6-feet, 145-pound, junior, one-year; Bill Mogan, fullback and linebacker, 6-feet-1, 175-pound, junior, one-year; John Payne, tailback and Tiger man, 5-feet-11, 175-pound, senior, one-year; Mearle Logan, tailback and defensive back, 5-feet-11, 155-pound, junior, one-year; Biff Bumgarner, one-year; Tom Strawser, two-year; Bryan Price, guard and linebacker, 6-feet, 185-pound, junior, one-year; Earl Stevenson, guard and middle guard, 5-feet-9, 158-pound, junior, one-year; Tim Hartinger, two-year; Tom England, tackle, 6-feet-1, 205-pound, senior, two-year; Art Davis, tackle, 5-feet-10, 178-pound, junior, one-year; Tom McGuire, split end and strong safety, 6-feet-2, 175-pound, junior, one-year; Dan Marshall, tight end, 6-feet-1, 145-pound; senior, one-year.

Other seniors on the squad are: John Russell, guard and middle guard, 5-feet-8, 150-pound; Mike Radcliff, split end and Tiger man, 5-feet-9, 135-pound.

Junior members of the team are: Brad Allison, quarterback and string safety, 6-feet, 150-pound; Brian Fath, quarterback and strong safety, 5-feet-9, 145-pound; Randy Happeney, center and Tiger man, 5-feet-8, 152-pound; John Hoffman, guard, 5-feet-11, 162; Scott Barthelmas, tackle, 5-feet-10, 175-pound; Chuck Wellman, tackle, 6-feet, 180-pound; Allen Brett, split end and 5-yard halfback, 5-feet-10, 151-pound.

Sophomores on the team are: Jeff Haist, quarterback and middle safety, 6-feet, 155-pound; Mike Brudzinski, quarterback and middle safety, 5-feet-10, 150-pound; Greg Berrigan, wingback and strong safety, 5-feet-6, 126-pound; Doug Brown, wingback and Tiger man, 5-feet-6, 125-pound; Joe Leahy, fullback and Tiger man, 5-feet-10, 150-pound; Dave Marshall, tailback and 5-yard halfback, 5-feet-11, 155-pound; Eric Berlin, center and linebacker, 5-feet-8, 140-pound; Paul Heffelfinger, center and tackle, 5-feet-10, 175-pound; Scott Willoughby, guard and linebacker, 5-feet-8, 155-pound; Brad Knecht, guard and middle guard, 6-feet, 155-pound; John Frericks, guard and middle guard, 5-feet-11, 135-pound; Brett Sherman, tackle, 5-feet-9, 155 pound; Todd Mancini, tackle, 6-feet-1, 180-pound; Clark Bowman, tackle, 5-feet-11, 162-pound; Mike Edgington, split end, 5-feet-11, 145-pound; Mark Albright, tight end and end linebacker, 5-feet-11, 165-pound; Toren Bensonhaver, split end and middle safety, 6-feet-2, 180 pound; Loren Payne, tight end, 5-feet-9, 143-pound.

Larry Cook will head up the Tiger coaching staff with Jim Lint, varsity line coach; Dave Angles, varsity backfield coach; Dale Harger, varsity line coach; Tom Cole, varsity line and backfield coach; Robert Willard, 9th grade coach; Ron Malone, assistant 9th grade coach; John Edgar, 7th and 8th grade coach; Dave Bogard, assistant 7th and 8th grade coach.

Team managers are: Rocky Wyatt, senior; Allen Rhoades, junior; Mike Cox, sophomore. Bob Bevan and Dan Stout, sophomores, are student trainers.

The Tigers will use a multiple formation offense featuring power football with the tailback and fullback carrying the brunt of the running game. Play action passes and sprint out passes will be the mainstay of the passing game. The passing attack will compliment the running game.

"The key to our attack will be offensive consistency and elimination of major turnovers such as fumbles and pass interceptions," Cook offered.

On defense, the Red and Black will use a 5-2 monster and some variations of a four-man front. It will be straight, hard nose, tough defensive football using very few games or stunts.

One of the strong points of the Tigers will be depth in the offensive backfield with Biff Bumgarner, Bill Mogan, Frank Merrill, Mearle Logan and John Payne along with some rapidly improving sophomores hitting hard and running to daylight.

Quarterback Brent Mancini will also get some good backing from Brian Fath, Brad Allison and Mike Brudzinski.

Quickness, aggressiveness and depth on the offensive line is definitely a plus factor for the lads from Roundtown. The first defensive unit is very strong with fine linebackers.

"We feel that we must develop more depth in our defensive unit and should be more consistent in all phases of our kicking game," Cook said.

In regard to the South Central Ohio League, Tiger coaches feel that Washington C.H. and Miami Trace are going to be strong contenders with Greenfield coming on as a strong dark horse.

"However, we are defending co-champions and feel that our third title in four years can be ours. Our boys have excellent poise and character and pride in themselves and the team which makes for a good club," Cook commented.

"We have a tough non league opening schedule but our boys will be ready to play. We have always had excellent student and community support, at home and away, and this is always an incentive to the team. It helps when the going gets tough and coaches and players alike really appreciate it," Cook concluded.

Here is the complete 1975 Circleville schedule.
 Sept. 5 At Chillicothe
 Sept. 12 At Teays Valley
 Sept. 19 Athens

Tournament Cancelled

Due to the Circleville Band preview Friday night and the band drive on Saturday, the scheduled girls softball league tournament has been cancelled.

Michigan State's football team this fall plays its first three 1975 games at home.

U.S. Amateur Golf Clash Under Way

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — John Grace, last year's runnerup, and British Amateur champion Vinny Giles swung into action with 130 other survivors today in the second round of the 75th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Besides their upset-minded opponents, Grace and Giles had to contend with the tough James River Course at the Country Club of Virginia, and the oppressive heat in the later summer sun.

Grace and Giles — who won in 1972 and is the closest to being a defending champion since the last two winners, Jerry Pate and Craig Stadler, have both turned pro — were among the 54 players who drew byes Tuesday.

The whopping field of 200 was trimmed appreciably when 68 entrants were eliminated, but four other matches were halted by darkness and were to be finished today with another 68 matches.

With temperatures in the high 90s, causing even 20-year-old Curtis Strange to complain, only Lance Ten Broeck of Chicago was able to beat par on the 6,672-yard course. Ten Broeck was two-under when he dispatched Michael Preston of Cream Ridge, N.J., 5 and 4.

Only six other golfers were able to match par, including Andy Bean, the strapping Western Amateur winner from Lakeland, Fla., and none played more than 16 holes. In match play, however, it makes no difference.

Robert Young Jr. of Dunwoody, Ga., was eight-over par when he eliminated former Walker Cupper Marty West, 1-up, and so was Tom Kelley of Fort Wayne, Ind., when he scored a 1-up victory over 53-year-old Bill Campbell, who was playing in his 32nd U.S. Amateur.

Area Pacers Win At Scioto Downs

Dixie Berry, owned by Harold R. Nagel and Roger D. McConnell of Circleville, won the third race at Scioto Downs Tuesday night.

The roan mare, driven by Bryan Weaver, paced the mile in 2:06.4 and paid $19.60, $9.60 and $6.

In the sixth race, Ovnassus, owned by Royal V. and James R. Hamman of Williamsport, was the winner.

The bay gelding, driven by Russ Baldwin, paced the mile in 2:06 and paid $9.40, $4.40 and $3.60.

Circleville Booster Club Meets Tonight

Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet tonight in the high school cafeteria immediately following the scrimmage game between Circleville and Dayton Franklin which gets underway 6:30 p.m. on the Red and Black sod.

Coach Larry Cook will review the films of the Groveport scrimmage. The price of admission to today's scrimmage is a bar of soap for the entire Circleville athletic program.

Tacoma Victorious In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tacoma took the lead at the half to win the featured $1,400 pace at Scioto Downs Tuesday night by three-quarters of a length.

Tacoma covered the mile in 2:03 and paid $3.20, $2.40 and $2.60. Cloud Cover paid $3 and $3.20, and Lady Art, $4. In the daily double, a 7-4 combination of Eclat and B.D. Keystoner paid $333.80.

Some 6,534 persons wagered $311,697.

One of the strong points of the Tigers will be depth in the offensive backfield with Biff Bumgarner, Bill Mogan, Frank Merrill, Mearle Logan and John Payne along with some rapidly improving sophomores hitting hard and running to daylight.

Quarterback Brent Mancini will also get some good backing from Brian Fath, Brad Allison and Mike Brudzinski.

Quickness, aggressiveness and depth on the offensive line is definitely a plus factor for the lads from Roundtown. The first defensive unit is very strong with fine linebackers.

"We feel that we must develop more depth in our defensive unit and should be more consistent in all phases of our kicking game," Cook said.

In regard to the South Central Ohio League, Tiger coaches feel that Washington C.H. and Miami Trace are going to be strong contenders with Greenfield coming on as a strong dark horse.

"However, we are defending co-champions and feel that our third title in four years can be ours. Our boys have excellent poise and character and pride in themselves and the team which makes for a good club," Cook commented.

"We have a tough non league opening schedule but our boys will be ready to play. We have always had excellent student and community support, at home and away, and this is always an incentive to the team. It helps when the going gets tough and coaches and players alike really appreciate it," Cook concluded.

Tournament Cancelled

Due to the Circleville Band preview Friday night and the band drive on Saturday, the scheduled girls softball league tournament has been cancelled.

Michigan State's football team this fall plays its first three 1975 games at home.

U.S. Amateur Golf Clash Under Way

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — John Grace, last year's runnerup, and British Amateur champion Vinny Giles swung into action with 130 other survivors today in the second round of the 75th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship.

Besides their upset-minded opponents, Grace and Giles had to contend with the tough James River Course at the Country Club of Virginia, and the oppressive heat in the later summer sun.

Grace and Giles — who won in 1972 and is the closest to being a defending champion since the last two winners, Jerry Pate and Craig Stadler, have both turned pro — were among the 54 players who drew byes Tuesday.

The whopping field of 200 was trimmed appreciably when 68 entrants were eliminated, but four other matches were halted by darkness and were to be finished today with another 68 matches.

With temperatures in the high 90s, causing even 20-year-old Curtis Strange to complain, only Lance Ten Broeck of Chicago was able to beat par on the 6,672-yard course. Ten Broeck was two-under when he dispatched Michael Preston of Cream Ridge, N.J., 5 and 4.

Only six other golfers were able to match par, including Andy Bean, the strapping Western Amateur winner from Lakeland, Fla., and none played more than 16 holes. In match play, however, it makes no difference.

Robert Young Jr. of Dunwoody, Ga., was eight-over par when he eliminated former Walker Cupper Marty West, 1-up, and so was Tom Kelley of Fort Wayne, Ind., when he scored a 1-up victory over 53-year-old Bill Campbell, who was playing in his 32nd U.S. Amateur.

Area Pacers Win At Scioto Downs

Dixie Berry, owned by Harold R. Nagel and Roger D. McConnell of Circleville, won the third race at Scioto Downs Tuesday night.

The roan mare, driven by Bryan Weaver, paced the mile in 2:06.4 and paid $19.60, $9.60 and $6.

In the sixth race, Ovnasus, owned by Royal V. and James R. Hamman of Williamsport, was the winner.

The bay gelding, driven by Russ Baldwin, paced the mile in 2:06 and paid $9.40, $4.40 and $3.60.

Circleville Booster Club Meets Tonight

Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet tonight in the high school cafeteria immediately following the scrimmage game between Circleville and Dayton Franklin which gets underway 6:30 p.m. on the Red and Black sod.

Coach Larry Cook will review the films of the Groveport scrimmage. The price of admission to today's scrimmage is a bar of soap for the entire Circleville athletic program.

Tacoma Victorious In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tacoma took the lead at the half to win the featured $1,400 pace at Scioto Downs Tuesday night by three-quarters of a length.

Tacoma covered the mile in 2:03 and paid $3.20, $2.40 and $2.60. Cloud Cover paid $3 and $3.20, and Lady Art, $4.

In the daily double, a 7-4 combination of Eclat and B.D. Keystoner paid $333.80.

Some 6,534 persons wagered $311,697.

Battle Of Kickers Seen By Bengals

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)— Professional football is beginning to sound a little like baseball. Thursday night's game between the Cincinnati Bengals and the Philadelphia Eagles is being billed as the "sidewinder versus the knuckler."

The "sidewinder" is former Bengals placekicker Horst Muhlmann, traded to the Eagles. The German soccerstyle booter holds the Cincinnati all-time

Bjorn Borg U.S. Tennis Champ Again

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Bjorn Borg, Sweden's 19-year-old tennis star, had two important dates marked on his calendar today as the U.S. Pro champion for the second year in a row.

"First I'm going to Forest Hills for the U.S. Open and then home to Sweden to play in the Davis Cup match with Chile," Borg said Tuesday night after successfully defending his U.S. Pro title at Longwood.

Borg, winner of 12 straight matches on the clay courts here, retained the championship and collected another $16,000 by defeating close pal Guillermo Vilas of Argentina 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Meanwhile, Ilie Nastase of Romania overwhelmed Bob Hewitt of South Africa 7-6, 6-1 Tuesday night in the final of the $50,000 Tennis Week Open in South Orange, N.J.

That match was halted for seven minutes when Hewitt sat down after the fourth game and refused to continue. Tournament referee Gus Lanna finally persuaded him that rain-dampened conditions weren't "dangerous and intolerable" as the South African contended and Hewitt resumed play.

Nastase later teamed with Jimmy Connors for a 6-2, 6-3 victory over Dick Crealy of Australia and John Lloyd of Great Britain in the doubles final.

Stan Smith Makes Comeback Attempt

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Stan Smith, the fair-haired American of international tennis in the late 1960s and early 70s, will attempt a comeback in the U.S. Open Championships tonight when he takes on Onny Parun of New Zealand.

scoring record with 559 points

"The knuckler," is Dave Green, a traditional Americanstyle kicker from Athens, Ohio.

Muhlmann's kickoffs rotate on an angle and traditionally land deep in the end zone.

Green has developed something called "the hard to handle kick."

"It's not a pretty kick," said Green, a converted punter who got Muhlmann's assignment after the trade.

"It's almost a knuckler" similar to a baseball pitched with the knuckles instead of the fingers. The ball spins very little in flight and tends to waver.

"I try to kick it over somebody's head. It bounces funny making the other team late in starting their runback. It also gives us a chance to recover the ball."

Muhlmann's "sidewinder" kicks make an arc, similar to a curve ball thrown by a sidearm baseball pitcher.

"I'm looking forward to kicking against him," said Green, anxious to prove Cincinnati lost nothing in the trade that gave him the job.

"I'm sure he's hoping to have a good game against us. It's only natural to want to have a good game against the team that traded you. You always want to prove them wrong."

Green, who shares the punting with rookie Jeff West, missed an extra point attempt and a field goal in Saturday night's exhibition victory over Green Bay, 27-10.

"It was a matter of rhythm," said Green, noting the Bengals are experimenting with other players holding the ball for his place kicks.

"I'll be glad when the season starts and end to all this experimenting," he said.

Reds Spurt Past Cubs, 6-5

CHICAGO (AP) — If the Cincinnati Reds are having difficulty maintaining their enthusiasm because of their tremendous lead in the National League West, it wasn't evident Tuesday.

Trailing 5-4 in the ninth after the first two batters struck out looking at Steve Stone's curves and a 1-2 count on pinch batter Terry Crowley, the Reds stunned the Chicago Cubs with two hard-earned runs for a 6-5 victory.

Crowley kept things alive with a single, Pete Rose walked, Ken Griffey beat out his specialty—an infield hit—and Joe Morgan singled off first baseman Andy Thornton's glove to send across the tying and winning runs.

Why didn't the Reds just forget about what has to be another meaningless game?

"We hadn't been playing well before we got here," said Manager Sparky Anderson. "We weren't generating anything. We weren't enthusiastic."

"It's hard to retain your motivation when you have the lead we have but I think the guys just kicked themselves and decided to go out and win it.

"The one thing I don't want them to start doing is marking time," said Anderson. "And it is tough to avoid under the circumstances. I guess I get a little greedy at times and expect them to win 'em all. But one thing I've never seen these guys do is go out and give the people a bad show."

The Cubs jumped off to a 4-0 lead in the first inning on a three-run homer by Jerry Morales followed by a solo shot by Thornton. They added another in the fifth on a walk, a double by Bill Madlock and an infield out.

Tony Perez singled in a pair of unearned runs in the Cincinnati third. Morgan tripled and scored on Perez' sacrifice fly in the sixth before Johnny Bench belted his 25th homer. Then came the winning rally in the ninth.

"The whole idea was that we wanted to come back and beat them," said Bench. "The Cubs aren't keyed up like the Pirates and Cardinals were. Those teams are in the pennant race."

There was some question about Morgan's hit which rolled foul after Thornton made a diving block of the ball as pinch runner Dave Concepcion scored the tying run from third and the ever hustling Rose scored all the way from second.

"I hit the ball good," said Morgan whose game-winning hit gave him 13 for the season and broke him out of a three-way tie with Perez and Rose in that department. "The ball was bending away from him and was just fair. With a lot of first basemen in this league it would have gone down the line for a triple."

A funny thing happened to the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night ... for the second night in a row.

Monday night, the Cards trailed Houston by a run with two out in the bottom of the 11th but salvaged a tie when the skies opened and rained the game out.

It was rescheduled as part of a twin-nighter Tuesday. St. Louis trailed the Astros 8-1 after 6½ innings in the opener but rallied with six runs in the seventh and pulled it out 10-9 on Reggie Smith's run-scoring single in the 12th.

The nightcap was a more-or-less routine 2-1 triumph for the Redbirds and the sweep lifted them into second place in the National League's East Division, three games behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who whipped Atlanta 8-2, and one game ahead of the Philadelphia Phillies, who bowed to Los Angeles 8-1.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets downed the San Diego Padres 7-2, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Chicago Cubs 6-5 and the San Francisco Giants nipped the Montreal Expos 4-3.

Houston raked four St. Louis pitchers for 20 hits in the opener — none of them a home run by Cliff Johnson — but the Cards bounced back in the seventh, sparked by Hector Cruz' bases-loaded triple. Mike Tyson's two-out single in the eighth sent the contest into overtime and Smith's single won it in the 12th after Bake McBride's single, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Ted Simmons.

Ron Fairly's homer and Harry Rasmussen's RBI single and five-hit pitching paced St. Louis in the nightcap.

Pirates 8, Braves 2
Duffy Dyer's two-run single capped a six-run first inning in which the first eight Pittsburgh batters hit safely against Jamie Easterly and Ray Sadecki. Frank Taveras' triple and singles by Rennie Stennett, Al Oliver, Willie Stargell and Richie Zisk chased Easterly. Dave Parker, Richie Hebner and Duffy Dyer also singled — Dyer driving in two runs — before winning pitcher Larry Demery made the first out.

Dodgers 8, Phillies 1
Ron Cey hit a three-run homer and Doug Rau hurled a three-hitter as the Dodgers knocked the Phillies into third place. Rau gave up a first-inning run on a double, single and an infield out and didn't allow another hit until Mike Schmidt singled in the seventh.

Mets 7, Padres 2
Rusty Staub's tie-breaking single triggered a three-run rally in the fifth inning and rookie Mike Vail added three hits for the Mets to support the nine-hit pitching of Randy Tate, another rookie. Felix Millan, Vail and Staub delivered consecutive hits to snap the deadlock.

Giants 4, Expos 3
Gary Thomasson's eighth-inning homer broke a 3-3 tie. Barry Foote homered for Montreal while San Francisco's Pete Falcone outdueled fellow rookie Dan Warthen in a pair of route-going performances.

Angels Pound Tiant, Bosox, 8-2

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

They stood together, father and son, on the pitcher's mound at Fenway Park. The older man, beaming, acknowledged the cheers of the crowd as he had in his playing days nearly 30 years ago.

Then Luis Tiant Sr. took off his coat and handed it to his boy, went into his windup and delivered a low fastball across history to Boston catcher Tim Blackwell.

Not satisfied with the form that may have lost something over the years, Tiant, Sr., called for the ball again and fluttered a knuckleball across the plate as 32,086 voices roared. It was Luis Tiant of the New York Cubans, circa 1927-48, all over again.

He reclaimed his coat, whispered something in his son's ear, and left. Luis Tiant, Jr., of the Boston Red Sox, took the mound.

"He just told me, 'Go get 'em. Don't worry about me being here,'" the younger Tiant recalled.

It may not have been nerves or the fact that his father hadn't seen his son since 1961, when Luis Jr. left Havana, Cuba, to seek his fortune in the major leagues. But Luis Jr. lost his game Tuesday night, 8-2, to the California Angels.

So Luis Tiant, Sr. went home a proud but somewhat disappointed man. But the Red Sox still lead the AL East by seven games, and the future still seems rosy.

"Maybe he'll see me pitch in the World Series," said Tiant, Jr. who just had lost his second straight game. "I sure hope so."

Ed Figueroa permitted Boston just five hits and catcher Andy Etchebarren cracked three hits including a homer to pace the California victory.

Elsewhere, New York humbled Oakland 7-1; Kansas City trimmed Baltimore 4-3 before losing 3-2 in the nightcap of their two-night doubleheader; Minnesota shaded Milwaukee 2-1, Texas nipped Detroit 3-2 and the Chicago-Cleveland game was rained out.

Yankees 7, A's 1
New York's Catfish Hunter continued his mastery over his former Oakland teammates, allowing seven hits in beating the world champion A's for the fourth time in as many meetings.

Hunter, 18-12, has held the A's to three runs — no more than one in any game — and 16 singles in the four games. He previously hurled a two-hitter, a three-hitter and a four-hitter.

Royals 4-2, Orioles 3-3

Mark Belanger's second home run of the season broke a tie in the fifth inning and led the Orioles over the Royals in the second game. George Brett's tie-breaking double in the sixth inning gave Kansas City the opener and foiled Jim Palmer's bid to become the seasons' first 20-game winner.

Twins 2, Brewers 1

Steve Braun's single in the sixth drove in the run that backed Dave Goltz's seven-hitter and helped Minnesota hand reeling Milwaukee its 10th defeat in 11 games and 16th in the last 21.

Rangers 3, Tigers 2

Dave Moates cracked a 10thinning single with the bases loaded to lift Texas over Detroit.

Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds is aiming to become the youngest player to win the National League runs-batted-in title four times. He's 27.

The University of Hawaii football players are called the Rainbow Warriors.

NFL Contract Talks Deadlock

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rozelle Rule has done it again.

It's put National Football League contract negotiations right back where they were. Nowhere.

The controversial rule proved the villain once more Tuesday, as representatives of the National Football League Players Association and NFL Management Council broke off negotiations after reaching an impasse on resolving their differences on the regulation.

Federal mediator James F. Searce said no progress was reached in the talks held Monday and Tuesday, despite a glint of movement earlier.

Talks between the two sides over option compensation as well as other issues barring agreement on a contract have carried on fruitlessly for more than a year.

Before last Friday, the players' group had refused to negotiate the Rozelle Rule before a court ruling on their suit challenging its legality.

The rule specifies that the original team owning a player who has played out his option year and signed with another must be adequately compensated. The compensation is determined by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle if the two teams cannot reach a settlement themselves.

Management has insisted that the rule must be negotiated before any contract is agreed upon.

The Chicago meeting came after NFLPA Executive Director Ed Garvey said the players would be willing to discuss a modification of the rule.

"I'm afraid we ran into some of the same old problems we had," said

'Library' Of Gerbils Readied

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) —Shoup Mill life science classes will have access to a critter library this fall — and parents may find themselves playing host to gerbils their youngsters have checked out.

Shoup Mill life science teacher Howard Henry, 49, says he has 50 gerbils which will be loaned to any of his students who want them for a short time this fall.

"Gerbils are odorless and they practically never bite," Henry said. "They are inquisitive and fun."

When a student borrows a gerbil, the animal comes complete with a cage, a supply of food, a water bottle and special instructions for care waiting to go home with a youngster.

Henry, who has to share the tiny, soft, brown animals with 1,500 students, said he will have to work out the special timing and responsibility problems with his critter library.

Last year Henry ran a plant library for his students with surprising success.

"When you consider seventh and eighth grade kids who are blasé about so much, you'd be surprised at how much enthusiasm they have for a geranium," Henry said.

The life science teacher keeps other animals in his menagerie to teach his students. There are Fremont and George the parrots, Sonny the fox, several defused skunks, Sid the Superintelligent Duck and others. All the animals, including the gerbils, are kept in the science class room at Shoup Mill, which is licensed to keep wild animals.

Searce. He characterized the Rozelle Rule as again "the key" hangup in the discussions.

"I don't want to cast a pall (on the situation) ...," he said, but he wasn't optimistic. In response to a question, he said, "Yeah, they (the talks) are at about the same place" as before the Chicago meeting. Monday night's talks, he said, "gave us some hope for some movement but it just didn't work out this way."

Searce, deputy director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said the talks have been broken off subject to call, but that he won't set up another meeting "until there's some evidence that we've got some place to go."

Both sides have been asked "to examine their positions," and "to see if they can come up with some other approaches," he said.

He would not define what other approaches he sought.

But he added, "We're gonna keep trying and we're looking."

Earlier, Wellington Mara of the New York Giants, chairman of the management council, said in a statement: "The union reverted to its original position of March 1974 when it told us that it objected to any restraints on player movement. Obviously we regarded this as a most serious development."

He had called Monday's meeting "very beneficial."

A court verdict on the Rozelle Rule is possible later this year in a Minneapolis federal court, but Garvey said he thought the lawsuit could be settled.

Mourning Dove Season Faces Court Battle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The mourning dove, whose call can be heard in most parts of Ohio, will be the subject of a court battle today as preservationists attempt to block the opening of the state's new hunting season on the birds.

A hearing is planned at 2 p.m. in Lucas County Common Pleas Court, on a class action suit filed by Larry Hyter, a Toledo member of the Fund for Animals.

Then Luis Tiant Sr. took off his coat and handed it to his boy, went into his windup and delivered a low fastball across history to Boston catcher Tim Blackwell.

Not satisfied with the form that may have lost something over the years, Tiant, Sr., called for the ball again and fluttered a knuckleball across the plate as 32,086 voices roared. It was Luis Tiant of the New York Yankees, circa 1927-48, all over again.

He reclaimed his coat, whispered something in his son's ear, and left. Luis Tiant, Jr., of the Boston Red Sox, took the mound.

"He just told me, 'Go get 'em. Don't worry about me being here,'" the younger Tiant recalled.

It may not have been nerves or the fact that his father hadn't seen his son since 1961, when Luis Jr. left Havana, Cuba, to seek his fortune in the major leagues. But Luis Jr. lost his game Tuesday night, 8-2 to the California Angels.

So Luis Tiant, Sr. went home a proud but somewhat disappointed man. But the Red Sox still lead the AL East by seven games, and the future still seems rosy.

"Maybe he'll see me pitch in the World Series," said Tiant, Jr. who just had lost his second straight game. "I sure hope so."

Ed Figueroa permitted Boston just five hits and catcher Andy Etchebarren cracked three hits including a homer to pace the California victory.

Elsewhere, New York humbled Oakland 7-1; Kansas City trimmed Baltimore 4-3 before losing 3-2 in the nightcap of their two-night doubleheader; Minnesota shaded Milwaukee 2-1, Texas nipped Detroit 3-2 and the Chicago-Cleveland game was rained out.

Yankees 7, A's 1
New York's Catfish Hunter continued his mastery over his former Oakland teammates, allowing seven hits in beating the world champion A's for the fourth time in as many meetings.

Hunter, 18-12, has held the A's to three runs — no more than one in any game — and 16 singles in the four games. He previously hurled a two-hitter, a three-hitter and a four-hitter.

Royals 4-2, Orioles 3-3

Mark Belanger's second home run of the season broke a tie in the fifth inning and led the Orioles over the Royals in the second game. George Brett's tie-breaking double in the sixth inning gave Kansas City the opener and foiled Jim Palmer's bid to become the seasons' first 20-game winner.

Twins 2, Brewers 1

Steve Braun's single in the sixth drove in the run that backed Dave Goltz's seven-hitter and helped Minnesota hand reeling Milwaukee its 10th defeat in 11 games and 16th in the last 21.

Rangers 3, Tigers 2

Dave Moates cracked a 10thinning single with the bases loaded to lift Texas over Detroit.

Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds is aiming to become the youngest player to win the National League runs-batted-in title four times. He's 27.

NFL Contract Talks Deadlock

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rozelle Rule has done it again.

It's put National Football League contract negotiations right back where they were. Nowhere.

The controversial rule proved the villain once more Tuesday, as representatives of the National Football League Players Association and NFL Management Council broke off negotiations after reaching an impasse on resolving their differences on the regulation.

Federal mediator James F. Searce said no progress was reached in the talks held Monday and Tuesday, despite a glint of movement earlier. Talks between the two sides over option compensation as well as other issues barring agreement on a contract have carried on fruitlessly for more than a year.

Before last Friday, the players' group had refused to negotiate the Rozelle Rule before a court ruling on their suit challenging its legality.

The rule specifies that the original team owning a player who has played out his option year and signed with another must be adequately compensated. The compensation is determined by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle if the two teams cannot reach a settlement themselves.

Management has insisted that the rule must be negotiated before any contract is agreed upon.

The Chicago meeting came after NFLPA Executive Director Ed Garvey said the players would be willing to discuss a modification of the rule.

"I'm afraid we ran into some of the same old problems we had," said

'Library' Of Gerbils Readied

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Shoup Mill life science classes will have access to a critter library this fall — and parents may find themselves playing host to gerbils their youngsters have checked out.

Shoup Mill life science teacher Howard Henry, 49, says he has 50 gerbils which will be loaned to any of his students who want them for a short time this fall.

"Gerbils are odorless and they practically never bite," Henry said. "They are inquisitive and fun."

When a student borrows a gerbil, the animal comes complete with a cage, a supply of food, a water bottle and special instructions for care waiting to go home with a youngster.

Henry, who has to share the tiny, soft, brown animals with 1,500 students, said he will have to work out the special timing and responsibility problems with his critter library.

Last year Henry ran a plant library for his students with surprising success.

"When you consider seventh and eighth grade kids who are barely about so much, you'd be surprised at how much enthusiasm they have for a geranium," Henry said.

The life science teacher keeps other animals in his menagerie to teach his students. There are ferrets and George the parrots, Sonny the fox, several defused skunks, Sid the Superintelligent Duck and others. All the animals, including the gerbils, are kept in the science class room at Shoup Mill, which is licensed to keep wild animals.

Searce. He characterized the Rozelle Rule as again "the key" hangup in the discussions.

"I don't want to cast a pall (on the situation) ...," he said, but he wasn't optimistic. In response to a question, he said, "Yeah, they (the talks) are at about the same place" as before the Chicago meeting. Monday night's talks, he said, "gave us some hope for some movement but it just didn't work out this way."

Searce, deputy director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said the talks have been broken off subject to call, but that he won't set up another meeting "until there's some evidence that we've got some place to go."

Both sides have been asked "to examine their positions," and "to see if they can come up with some other approaches," he said.

He would not define what other approaches he sought.

But he added, "We're gonna keep trying and we're looking."

Earlier, Wellington Mara of the New York Giants, chairman of the management council, said in a statement: "The union reverted to its original position of March 1974 when it told us that it objected to any restraints on player movement. Obviously we regarded this as a most serious development."

He had called Monday's meeting "very beneficial."

A court verdict on the Rozelle Rule is possible later this year in a Minneapolis federal court, but Garvey said he thought the lawsuit could be settled.

Mourning Dove Season Faces Court Battle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The mourning dove, whose call can be heard in most parts of Ohio, will be the subject of a court battle today as preservationists attempt to block the opening of the state's new hunting season on the birds.

A hearing is planned at 2 p.m. in Lucas County Common Pleas Court, on a class action suit filed by Larry Hyter, a Toledo member of the Fund for Animals.

Spitler Elected President Of South Central Power Board

Raymond Spitler, Pleasantville, is the new president of the board of trustees of South Central Power Company, replacing John Eakin of Canal Winchester, who had held the position since 1946.

The election took place at the first re-organization meeting of the Board of Trustees of the locally owned power company, after the Annual Meeting, August 21st.

Both Eakin and Spitler have had long careers in rural electrification. Eakin, who was born in Franklin County, attended schools in Hamilton Township and Ohio State University as a major in Animal Husbandry. Since 1931 until his retirement three years ago, he operated a 148-acre farm near Pickerington, Ohio. After the sale of the farm he moved into the nearby village of Canal Winchester, where he lives with his wife, Helen, at 406 Sarwill Drive, North.

In 1936 he was a township committeeman working to secure rights-of-way, and signing customers to membership in the new South Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc. In

Rail Layoffs Under Way

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Coal-dependent railroads began laying off workers this week as secondary industries felt the effect of the two-week-old West Virginia wildcat coal strike.

With more than 40,000 of the state's 50,000 miners remaining idle, federal courts continued their injunctive attempts to force a work resumption. U.S. District Judge K.K. Hall continued until 9 a.m. today a contempt hearing against 34 United Mine Workers locals here in the heart of the dispute.

Members of the Miners Committee to Defend the Right to Strike called a 2 p.m. meeting today at Drawdy Falls in Boone County, presumably to discuss strategy for spreading the walkout into other states.

The strike blossomed Aug. 11 to protest the suspension of a Logan County miner and the slowness of grievance procedures designed to grant him a hearing. Since then, the walkout's focus has widened to other areas of miner discontent: the willingness of coal firms to seek federal injunctions, unhappiness with shift rotation and the lack of a right to strike over local and safety issues.

As the strike went into its third week, stockpiles dropped at railroads and industries reliant on coal.

Gas Pinch Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House decision is expected in the next few weeks on ways to ease an expected natural gas shortage this winter.

The announcement Tuesday by Press Secretary Ron Nessen came amid published reports that President Ford may seek congressional authority to continue federal controls on propane gas through next winter. This bottled gas is widely used for heating and farm purposes.

Nessen said Ford is considering a number of steps to cushion the possible economic impact of his plans to veto extension of oil price control.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Ford expects to receive from Congress a bill which would call for a six-month extension of price controls on domestic oils. Nessen said no date has been set for the President's promised veto of the measure.

Controls would automatically end Aug. 31 unless the new bill is signed by Ford or his veto is sustained by Congress. But Nessen said Ford would not necessarily have to act on the bill before Aug. 31.

1937 he joined the Board of Trustees and in 1946 he was elected President of the Board. He was also a member of the Ohio Midland Light and Power Company's Board of Trustees, and served as Secretary-Treasurer of that company for four years.

Active in many fraternal, civic and religious groups, Eakin was a member of the Violet Township-Pickerington District School Board, and still belongs to the Canal Winchester, M. E. Church, the Pickerington Grange, the Farm Bureau, and the Lockbourne Lodge 232 Order of Masons. He is a Past Master of that Lodge, as well as having been the Past Priest of the Royal Arch in Canal Winchester.

Raymond Spitler first joined the South Central Power Board of Trustees in March of 1956, when he was appointed to fill the uncompleted term of office of the late Guy Belt, and has been re-elected to the Board for consecutive terms ever since.

He is a native of Fairfield County, and was born on the same farm where he now lives, just outside of Pleasantville. While he does not actively farm the 215 acres, he oversees the operation which is conducted by a neighbor. He presently is working with the Fairfield County Engineers, in charge of a rural house numbering project.

Spitler attended Pleasantville High School and Ohio State University, majoring in Animal Husbandry. In 1937 he married the former Grace Barrow of Lancaster, a marriage which ended with Mrs. Spitler's death in 1971. He is active in many civic, farm and fraternal organizations. He is a 32nd Degree Mason, a Past Master of the Pleasantville Lodge, Past Presiding Officer of All York Rite Bodies, as well as a Knight of the York Cross of Honour. He belongs to the Scottish Rite and the Aladdin Shrine, and is a member of both the Farm Bureau and the National Farmers Union.

Woman Faces Shoplifting Charges

A 20-year-old Circleville woman faces a felony conviction after she was arrested for shoplifting late Tuesday afternoon at the Big Bear Store.

The woman, Sheila Grooms, 78 Bolens Ave., allegedly left the store with $11.23 worth of merchandise in her purse, according to Circleville Police Ptl. John Bost.

The charge was filed by David Marquis, manager of the supermarket.

The charge is listed as a felony, rather than a misdemeanor, because Ms. Grooms was on probation from Pickaway County Common Pleas Court for auto theft. According to Sgt. Larry Pontius, the second of two theft charges is considered a felony under the Ohio Revised Code.

Ms. Grooms was placed in city jail under $1,000 bond following her arrest.

Debbie Selin, 104 Gale Court, told police that thieves broke into her apartment early Wednesday morning and took a combination stereo tape player and radio valued at $200.

Ruth Thompson, 137 Logan St., complained that thieves entered her home to take three stereo tapes.

Argentina's Military Units Put On Alert

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — All army units were put on full alert early today as a dispute over military participation in the government brought demands from top generals for the resignation of the army chief.

Some navy and air force units and the federal police in Buenos Aires also were alerted for trouble amid rumors of an impending military coup. But the professed goal of the critics of the army chief, Gen. Alberto Numa Laplane, was to keep the army out of the government, not to take it over.

Fighting Peronist politicians and labor leaders and the leading opposition party closed ranks behind President Isabel Peron in a show of support for "the constitutional process."

It was a surprising boost for the 44-year-old president who only a month ago appeared to be on her way out. But fears of military intervention appeared to have created a facade of unity, for the time being at least.

Laplane submitted his resignation Tuesday night, but Mrs. Peron rejected it, the government announced.

The army chief called a meeting of his generals this morning in an attempt to patch up their differences, but there were reports that most of the top-ranking commanders refused to attend.

There were no unusual military movements in Buenos Aires, and no reports of any in the interior. The Buenos Aires police reported fire bombs gutted Dodge and Mercedes Benz showrooms in a Buenos Aires suburb, but this presumably was the work of terrorists.

The movement to oust Gen. Laplane stemmed from his continued support of Interior Minister Vicente Damasco, a colonel and the only military man in the cabinet Mrs. Peron named Aug. 11.

Final Arguments Set In Slayings

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Final arguments were scheduled today in the murder trial of Robert Paul Sander, a former Cincinnati man accused of the rifle slaying of five persons.

Superior Court Judge Frank S. Petersen said Tuesday that the guilt-or-innocence phase of the trial could go to the jury by noon Thursday.

Sander, 24, has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to 11 felony counts, including five murder counts stemming from shootings at a Smith River motel-restaurant.

NEW EQUIPMENT—The Circleville Township Trustees purchased the Mustang Attack Pumper for a price of $24,700. The low bidder was Pierce Manufacturing Inc., Appleton, Wisconsin, and will be delivered in January 1976. The unit will be housed in the new location at Route 22 West and intersection Route 23 (old Shell Station). It will be operated by the Circleville Fire Department and used in the City of Circleville and Circleville Township.

RCA Picture Tube Division Names Vice President

Appointment of Dr. D. Joseph Donahue as Division Vice President Engineering, was announced today by Joseph H. Colgrove, Division Vice President and General Manager, RCA Picture Tube Division.

Dr. Donahue will be responsible for all engineering activities in the Picture Tube Division, including research and development activities and new product development. He will be located in the Lancaster, Pa., headquarters of the Picture Tube Division.

He has been serving as Division Vice President, International Operations for the RCA Solid State Division for the past year.

Dr. Donahue joined RCA in 1951 at the electron tube manufacturing plant in Lancaster, Pa., and made many major contributions in the development of color television picture tubes. In 1958, he transferred to the RCA Semiconductor and Materials Division in Somerville, N.J., as a Manager in Advanced Development. He was appointed Manager, Advanced Development for the Semiconductor and Materials Division in 1960 and in 1962 was named Manager, Engineering, for the Industrial Semiconductor Operations Department. In 1965, he was appointed Manager of the Industrial Semiconductor Operations Department.

He was named Manager, Solid State Division in 1967 and in 1970 was appointed Division Vice President Solid State — Europe, responsible for all solid state activities in Europe, including sales, engineering, manufacturing and warehousing. Dr. Donahue was transferred back to the Solid State Division headquarters in Somerville, N.J., in 1973 as Division Vice President, integrated Circuits to direct the division's engineering, production and marketing of COS-MOS, linear, high-speed bipolar, and high-reliability IC's and liquid crystal products. In 1974, he was appointed Division, Vice President, International Operations, responsible for marketing and manufacturing operations in Europe, Canada, Japan and Brazil.

Dr. Donahue was born in Joliet, Ill., and received his B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees in Physical Chemistry from the University of Michigan. He is the holder of several patents and is the author of a number of scientific articles. He is also a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, and is listed in "American Men of Science" and "Who's Who in the Electronics Industry."

Spitler Elected President Of South Central Power Board

Raymond Spitler, Pleasantville, is the new president of the board of trustees of South Central Power Company, replacing John Eakin of Canal Winchester, who had held the position since 1946.

The election took place at the first re-organization meeting of the Board of Trustees of the locally owned power company, after the Annual Meeting, August 21st.

Both Eakin and Spitler have had long careers in rural electrification. Eakin, who was born in Franklin County, attended schools in Hamilton Township and Ohio State University as a major in Animal Husbandry. Since 1931 until his retirement three years ago, he operated a 148-acre farm near Pickerington, Ohio. After the sale of the farm he moved into the nearby village of Canal Winchester, where he lives with his wife, Helen, at 406 Sarwill Drive, North.

In 1936 he was a township committeeman working to secure rights-of-way, and signing customers to membership in the new South Central Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc. In
